Rejoicing Together

Advent was a season full of joy and togetherness at our church! From the festive Advent Festival filled with laughter and celebration, to Christmas caroling that spread cheer and good news throughout our community, the season was truly alive with hope! Our Christmas services brought it all together with heartfelt worship, celebrating the birth of Jesus and the light He brings to the world. Thank you, FCC, for another wonderful advent season!

Something about New Year's invites us to some self reflection and, for many, a bit of change. Even if you are not into resolutions or intentions, it is human nature as we change out calendars or struggle to finish writing 2026 instead of 2025 on checks, to pause and ask, "am I living into my values the best that I can, or does something need to change?"

It's also human nature that give it a few days or weeks and then go back to whatever our previous normal was. We lose those proactive habits. We do what some of our brothers and sisters in the faith might call "backsliding". We stop trying for a new way and go back to the comfort of old ways.

That's why, this month in worship, we are going to be exploring a worship series called Change for Good: Making and Keeping Positive Growth in the New Year. Over the next six weeks, will be learning about what helps change "stick", share insight from authors and scientists about what helps your brain and body transition, and of course, to root this all in the Love of Christ, in the whom we are to be growing into.

You'll be invited on your own journey of growth and change; and we have some special ways to support your good and lasting changes.

To help us see what a change for good looks like in scripture, will be hearing a lot about the apostle Paul and some big changes in his life.

So as we transition into 2026, I hope that our time of worship will inspire you for some positive process and that you can make a change for good!

Sharing the Spirit of Christmas

During the Christmas season, members of the First Christian Church have embraced the spirit of generosity by partnering with the Salvation Army in several meaningful ways. Through participation in the Mitten Tree and Angel Tree programs, church members are helping bring warmth, hope, and joy to the community. Members also volunteered their time by ringing bells at the Salvation Army Red Kettles, greeting shoppers with smiles and spreading holiday cheer while raising funds to support local outreach efforts. Together, these acts of service highlight the First Christian Church's dedication to service, generosity, and sharing Christ's love throughout the Christmas season.
