

SOS UPDATE MARCH 2026

100 + HOUSES

We write again further to our update of January this year. Very recently we wrote again to the leader of TVBC, Councillor Phil North, to find out the current position about any new allocation of houses in or near Stockbridge, for the Local Plan 2042. We understand that because of the volume of responses to the original version of the Local Plan (from us and others throughout the Borough) the Planning Department are still working their way through them. However their aim is to have a new revised plan, about which we will be consulted, in the summer of 2026. This is an extra step that was not originally envisaged in the planning process. Therefore we consider it is likely that this extra consultation period will be short so that the rest of the timetable may still be complied with.

This means that as soon as we hear that the further revised Local Plan 2042 is available we will be in touch to inform you of any allocation in or near Stockbridge and any resulting action that we intend to take. If there is any large allocation then we will, you can be sure, ask you all again to be involved in our response. Once again you will also need to consider your own individual responses.

That is currently the best information we have. A new consultation is apparently to be held this summer. We will alert you just as soon as we know when this will be.

Thank you for your continuing support.
