

Competency 002:

-The entry-level principal knows how to work with stakeholders as key partners to support student learning.

-I have been the teacher representative for the past 4 years on my campus' SBDM team. Together we have worked with school families, and community members to make decisions on our campus including:

- Dress code
- Move from backpacks to portfolios
- Scheduling
- Drive PTA numbers, and increase family involvement

-Through the athletics department, I have led meetings for all student-athletes and their parents.

-Also through athletics, I have been a part of bringing students in our feeder pattern free supplies every year through Nancy Lieberman Charities.

*In addition to the Athletic Parent Meeting, through our athletic coordinator, we were blessed to have former NBA player Nancy Liberman come to our school to give out binders and school supplies to 500 students in our feeder pattern. The Bryan Adams band and the Bryan Adams Belles were in attendance, and we had well over 500 people show up to this event. I was not as heavily involved in the planning aspect of this, but anything having to do with Athletics I am heavily involved in because I feel that a strong athletic department helps the culture and build school spirit at your campus.

-As head baseball coach, I have created a yearly "Clean Up The Yard" event before the start of the baseball and softball seasons. Many of our players, staff, and community has come out to partake!(see artifact).

WORK DAY ON THE HILL

Please come out and help up make our field look tip top before our first game on Monday, March 26! We'll be doing some light field work, cleaning up around the field, and repairing and painting the old concession stand!
