the hand sewn experts

Paul and Gail Fisher have a lifetime of experience creating soft furnishings to the impeccably high standards demanded by the professional design sector.

He is also aware of the absolute requirement of professional designers for reliable delivery promises, sophisticated order tracking, willing help with the occasional rush-job and a trouble free and enjoyable order experience.

With these demands in mind, he has established an experienced team of highly skilled hand sewing specialists, located in large capacity premises, offering professional making-up services through the new Paul Fisher brand.

Paul is proud for such exceptional products and services to be sold under his name.

Paul Fisher

curtain making

The heart of what we do is making curtains, with our absolute specialism being hand sewn curtains. You do the creative design work, specify the fabric, select the heading style from our extensive palette of options, send us the fabric and we do the rest.

Passionate attention to detail, decades of experience and uncompromising quality. Because your reputation matters.

headboards and upholstery

Many window treatment projects also require complimentary upholstery and soft furnishing accents to complete the scheme. For such projects, Paul Fisher recognises the importance of highest quality making, the managing of fabric batches and the simple convenience of a single supplier. To reflect this, the brand offers bedspreads, valances and cushion covers, all made to the usual exacting standards and the team also includes expert upholsterers, specialising in the production of professional quality headboards.

hardware and accessories

The team at Fishers take pride in attention to detail, as details really do define the quality of a project. With this in mind, Fishers offer highest quality making facilities for cushions, throws and other soft furnishings accents to help integrate the design scheme. Fishers also uses only the very finest drapery hardware for a superior aesthetic and for strength, longevity and peace of mind.

In summary, Fishers offer a total project solution with every element made to unrivalled professional standards.
