Organizer

Welcome to SWISH 2025

On behalf of our faculty, we are happy to welcome you to SWISH 2025, and we sincerely appreciate your attendance.

Friday begins with our special session, “ECMO and MCS in the Cath Lab,” which will cover the key elements needed to build and sustain a successful program. This is followed by our popular debate sessions, featuring faculty with opposing viewpoints on timely and sometimes controversial topics—always a highlight of SWISH.

Saturday, our second day, is dedicated entirely to case-based discussions. Faculty from leading institutions will present unique and challenging cases that emphasize practical decision-making, procedural approaches, complication management, and the use of new tools and techniques. Attendees will be able to score each case using our Audience Response System, and the top-rated case will be announced at the end of the program.

This year, we are also introducing an important and timely presentation: “My Journey: Trials, Tribulations, and Vindication of a TAVR Lawsuit.” This session aims to prompt an open, honest discussion about the legal challenges that physicians may unexpectedly face in their careers. In addition, Dr. Kaki will share insights from his own experience with a lawsuit involving a large hospital system. Our hope is that these conversations will be informative, supportive, and grounded in real-world lessons.

Be sure to visit the Hands-On Breakout Workshop: Learning MPR and 3D ICE for Structural Heart Interventions, available throughout the day on Saturday for individualized and small-group training.

Finally, we hope SWISH offers a welcoming space to connect with colleagues, share experiences, and strengthen professional relationships. We look forward to speaking with you throughout the meeting and hope your time here is both enjoyable and valuable.

Sincerely,

Course Directors

Saturday All-Day Hands-On Workshop • Camelback H

Learning MPR and 3D ICE for Structural Heart Interventions

This all-day workshop provides immersive, hands-on training to enhance your imaging and procedural skills with Philips VeriSight Pro 3D ICE simulators and the EPIQ Ultrasound system using the G5 TriClip and MitraClip devices. The small-group, personalized simulator sessions are led by Dr. Moody Makkar and Dr. Pallavi Bellamkonda, along with Clinical Specialists from Abbott and Philips. Don't miss this opportunity for comprehensive, engaging, hands-on learning. No pre-registration is needed; simply visit Camelback H throughout the day for individual and small-group training, available on a first-come, first-served basis all day Saturday.

Case Competition Voting

Rate case presentations on Saturday, December 6th, through the Audience Response Portal. Anonymous voting for each case will open at the start of the presentation and remain open until it ends. Cases are rated on a scale from 1 to 5 (with 1 being the lowest and 5 the highest), based on criteria such as uniqueness, complexity, clinical decision-making, complication management, and/or advanced or novel techniques.

The winner of the Best Case from SWISH is announced during the final session, with cocktails served, based on the results tabulated from attendees' votes.
