Scripture comes from the apocryphal Bible

The ascension of Isaiah

2:9-And Micah the prophet and the aged
Ananias and Joel and Habakkuk and his son Josab and many of the faithful who believed in the ascension into heaven withdrew and settled on the mountains.

Prologue

I am blessed to be able to write another book for yall. At this point it's been a long time coming. However due to my circumstances it has been difficult to sit still enough to write not to mention difficult to write while going through what I'm writing about.

This book is intended to be used to help those who are struggling with or victims of gang stalking. These gang stalking tactics are often used and executed by narcissists and their gang or group members who associate with them. While I've created many videos received many messages and my own testimony and experiences this is my first book on this subject.

Narcissism is a serious medical condition that is often overlooked and ignored however people who suffer from this condition tend to act out in various ways. Narcissists tend to believe they are perfect and the best at everything even things they don't know how to do or have never done. Sometimes things work out for them simply because of their arrogance however when they are proven wrong they become enraged with the reality kicking in and lash out towards whoever caused reality to be revealed. When you find yourself in the position of the scapegoat and begin to fight back defend yourself or simply prove their accusations wrong they become angry and enraged. They will then begin encouraging people who enable them to attack you by stalking bullying and outright attacking you.

This in itself is worthy of a full book however this book will be about what happens when the attack doesn't work. What happens when one person is attacked by hundreds or thousands of people and survives. How do you navigate a world where you were expected to die. How do to face people who wanted to see you dead. Do you accept apologies, do you ignore them , do you plan a comeback do you siege war or retreat? In a world filled with possibilities we definitely need to know God opinion on this matter.

There's a blessing in the storm... no one who executes or participates in gang stalking is strong enough to endure what they dish out...

You may be wondering why are they so gosh darn mad. They were stalking me ...attacking me....following me around stores... trying to take my life, money, and whatever possessions I worked hard for... trying to get me fired or did... I should be mad they should be sorry but typically it's not going to be that way.

When the Israelites escaped pharaoh he was not a happy camper. He agreed to let them go so that God would remove His beautiful glorious foot from his neck but he wasn't happy about it. In fact he sent chariots after them before they could properly get away and God being all knowing all powerful already had a plan to send the Israelites through the Red Sea and close the opening behind them. In the physical it makes sense for a group of hundreds or thousands of people to assume they could easily take out one person but in the spiritual you are not alone. You have already seen Gods hand. You've already gotten through the worst part the next phase is no more than pharaoh trying old tricks to hold you captive however God saw him coming. Whoever is the cause of what you've endured will only fail again and lose many loyal followers due to the storm they will bring upon themselves.

God is God He will have His way and He will destroy any one trying to get in the way. Go on understanding that you've been freed from any chains. Any debts have been cleared cancelled or forgiven and anyone trying to hold you against your will will receive the wrath of God.

I pray this mini book gives you peace and comfort. God wants to congratulate you on your freedom and reassure you that you're moving forward.
