

Star's Cartel
Presents

So You Survived Pt.3

Star's Cartel
Presents

So You
Survived
Pt.3

© Starscartel

Greetings family thanks for all of your support and prayers. I am very excited to release the third edition of this title So you Survived as promised for those who need to read the message. May God bless you Star.

Star's Cartel
www.starscartel.com

Testament of the 12 Patriarchs

The testament of Naphtali, the 8th son of Jacob and Bilhah 8:4

If you work that which is good, my children, both men and messengers will bless you, and God will be glorified among the nations through you, and the devil will flee from you, and the wild beasts will fear you and the Lord will love you, and the messenger's will cleave to you.

Prologue

The toughest thing in my opinion about the “So you survived” books is surviving is one thing whereas the battle being over is another. Some people believe just because they have survived gangstalking and ended a relationship that it ends there per se you’re not being gangstalked by your ex anymore. How many people did he complain to of those people how many took it upon themselves to attack you or come after you because how dare you get away survive and dance after.

I get it that nobody is perfect but definitely takes a special crazy person who is more excited to attack stalk or harass someone over something that has nothing to do with them. And although this series more focuses on narcissistic relationships there are other reasons people gangstalk including but not limited to money, trafficking and or kidnapping, someone put a hit on you the list goes on so use what fits and leave what’s left. May God bless you.

Chapter 1

When rebuilding your life pay close attention to everyone who claims they want to be a part of it.

At this stage you start to relax and have a good idea of how to restructure your life. Be very careful of people who are only interested in getting to know you with evil intentions. In reality everyone you meet will have some intention in heart but you have to be able to decipher if they are genuine and honest about getting to know you or their intentions or not. Obviously this is easier done with stores churches and restaurants as the church's goal is to save as many people as possible the stores and restaurants goals are to make money. But when it comes to marriage and friends it gets deeper than that and can be difficult to decipher.

At this point it may seem hard to trust anyone and that's a good thing. Sometimes people that are into gang stalking get a kick out of their weird creep behavior and sometimes they don't have a choice. I'll explain further...

If you are being hunted down by a pimp you may find that you can't go out certain places without women taking pictures of you or calling him on the phone when they're around you. They will sit and smile at you in the face while simultaneously trying to set you up to be trafficked and pimped out like them. You need to be aware many pimps use dating and fake relationships as a way to seek out their slaves so be careful who you date and who you fall in love with.

You will experience different phases of your freedom from abuse. You may encounter days where you feel like you're not free to do what you want but in reality it's only God protecting you from evil and it will pass by just like the rest of the evil in this world.

You have to understand your enemies will try to smear your name and turn as many people against you as they can. In reality you cannot control what anybody says about you, let them lie they will look stupid when they're proven wrong. I could've allowed the lies that these traffickers spread about me cause me to give up, I could've said nobody cared about the last one but I know that it's not all about the money it's about saving as many innocent women as I possibly can. Because I believe no one should be forced into doing anything they don't want to.

About the Author

Tamara "Star" Willis Thanks for reading the 3rd portion of So You Survived. It is as always free. If you would like to donate you can use my website www.starscartel.com

Chime $starscartel

Zelle tamarajenel33@gmail.com

May the good Lord in heaven bless you 🙏