

To Whom It May Concern:

It is my pleasure to recommend Nicole Haines for their professional nursing e-portfolio. As their Professor and Program Coordinator at Cecil College, I have known Nicole for five semesters/18 months and have taught her in all the nursing theory classes and monitored the clinical courses.

Throughout this time, Nicole Haines consistently demonstrated a high level of academic excellence, clinical competence, and dedication to the nursing profession. In the classroom, they showed strong critical thinking skills, actively engaged in complex case studies, and regularly contributed meaningful insights to peer discussions.

In clinical settings or lab environments, Nicole has proved to be observant, compassionate, and responsible. They communicate effectively with patients and the healthcare team, handle constructive feedback with grace, and always prioritize patient safety and ethical care. Their commitment to reflective practice—a core component highlighted in their e-portfolio—shows a genuine drive for continuous personal and professional growth.

Nicole possesses the resilience, empathy, and intellectual rigor required of an outstanding nurse. I offer them my highest recommendation for their ongoing career advancement, residency, or professional pursuits. Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Dr Catherine Jordan
