This trio set of sew inspirational stamps are embroidery designs from Embroidery Library. If they look familiar, it's because they are from the same designer who created the popular "I'll Be In My Office" embroidery design.

I have tried to stick with the same colors that were used in the I'll Be In My Office block, but I did have to add the Dark Aquamarine and Teal Green pencils. Also, I felt that using the Gelly Roll Silver pen wasn't adequate enough to completely cover the sewing machines, so I have opted to include the Inktense Neutral Gray or Inktense Asphalt pencil as a means of coloring the larger sewing machine surfaces easier.

When I colored these blocks, I leaned heavily on creating a paint from the Inktense pencils colors recommended in the instructions. The circular areas, the background, the sewing machine decks and other metal parts were all "painted" with Inktense-derived fabric paint.
