WHAT TO BRING TO CAMP We strongly recommend that parents write the name or initials of their children inside their clothing, luggage, and personal items to prevent items from being lost. Campers should bring the following: Sheets/blankets (or sleeping bag) and pillow, towels, washcloth, soap, lotion, sunscreen, modest swimsuit, sweater or light jacket, modest clothes, tennis shoes, toothbrush, toothpaste, personal hygiene products, poncho, etc.

DRESS CODE

Our dress code policy is based on the principle of modesty, as certain styles of clothing can be a distraction for many. Our intent is not to bring attention to how one looks, but to highlight our inner abundance and love. Both campers and staff are required to adhere to the dress code policy. Anyone in violation of this policy will be asked to change clothes or make the appropriate changes to render their clothing modest, as follows:

- Modest shorts and skirts are acceptable.
 - Clothing of all kinds should not be sheer or tight.
 - Undergarments must not be visible.
 - No bandeau tops

Visit the Camp

Parents or legal guardians are permitted to visit IPM Camp, on Thursday July 14. You will find contact information and directions following the body of this letter. Other family members and friends who desire to visit should secure the permission of the parents, who should then notify IPM Camp administration ahead of time.

CODE OF CONDUCT Our goal is for everyone who attends IPM Camp to enjoy a rewarding experience. Thus, we have developed a behavior management plan that is based on positive behavior intervention and support. Campers who choose positive behavior are recognized and rewarded with tickets that can be redeemed for prizes. Campers who make inappropriate choices receive reflection tickets, which can result in the loss of swim time and recreation time. Campers are encouraged to be caring, to be courteous, and to communicate effectively. To achieve this, they are expected to adhere to the following five guidelines:

- Campers will follow all directions the first time they are given.
- Campers will use polite language.
- Campers will keep hands, feet and objects to themselves.
- Campers will stay with their counselor or assigned group (excluding free times).
- Campers will keep their environment clean.

Campers that display severe misbehavior that endangers themselves or others are taken immediately to the camp director. These situations are handled on a case-by-case basis. In extreme cases, camp leadership may determine that the camper needs to return home. In this case, the parent will be notified immediately and will be expected to pick up the camper from Catocctin Mountain Park Thurmont, MD. Physical punishment is not exercised at IPM Camp under any circumstances.

CANCELLATIONS & REFUNDS

If your child is unable to attend camp, please let us know as soon as possible. Requests for refunds must be submitted in writing by either email or postal mail. These requests will be reviewed on an individual basis and refunds will be issued following the end of the last camp session. The registration deposit of $100 is nonrefundable and nontransferable.
