ABOUT ME

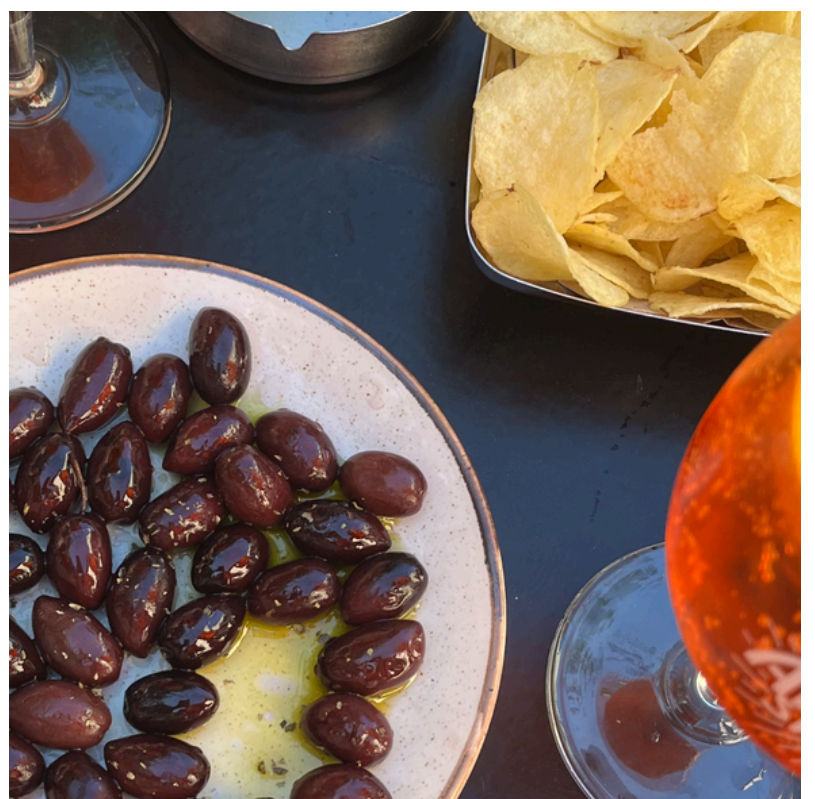

Miranda Grimes

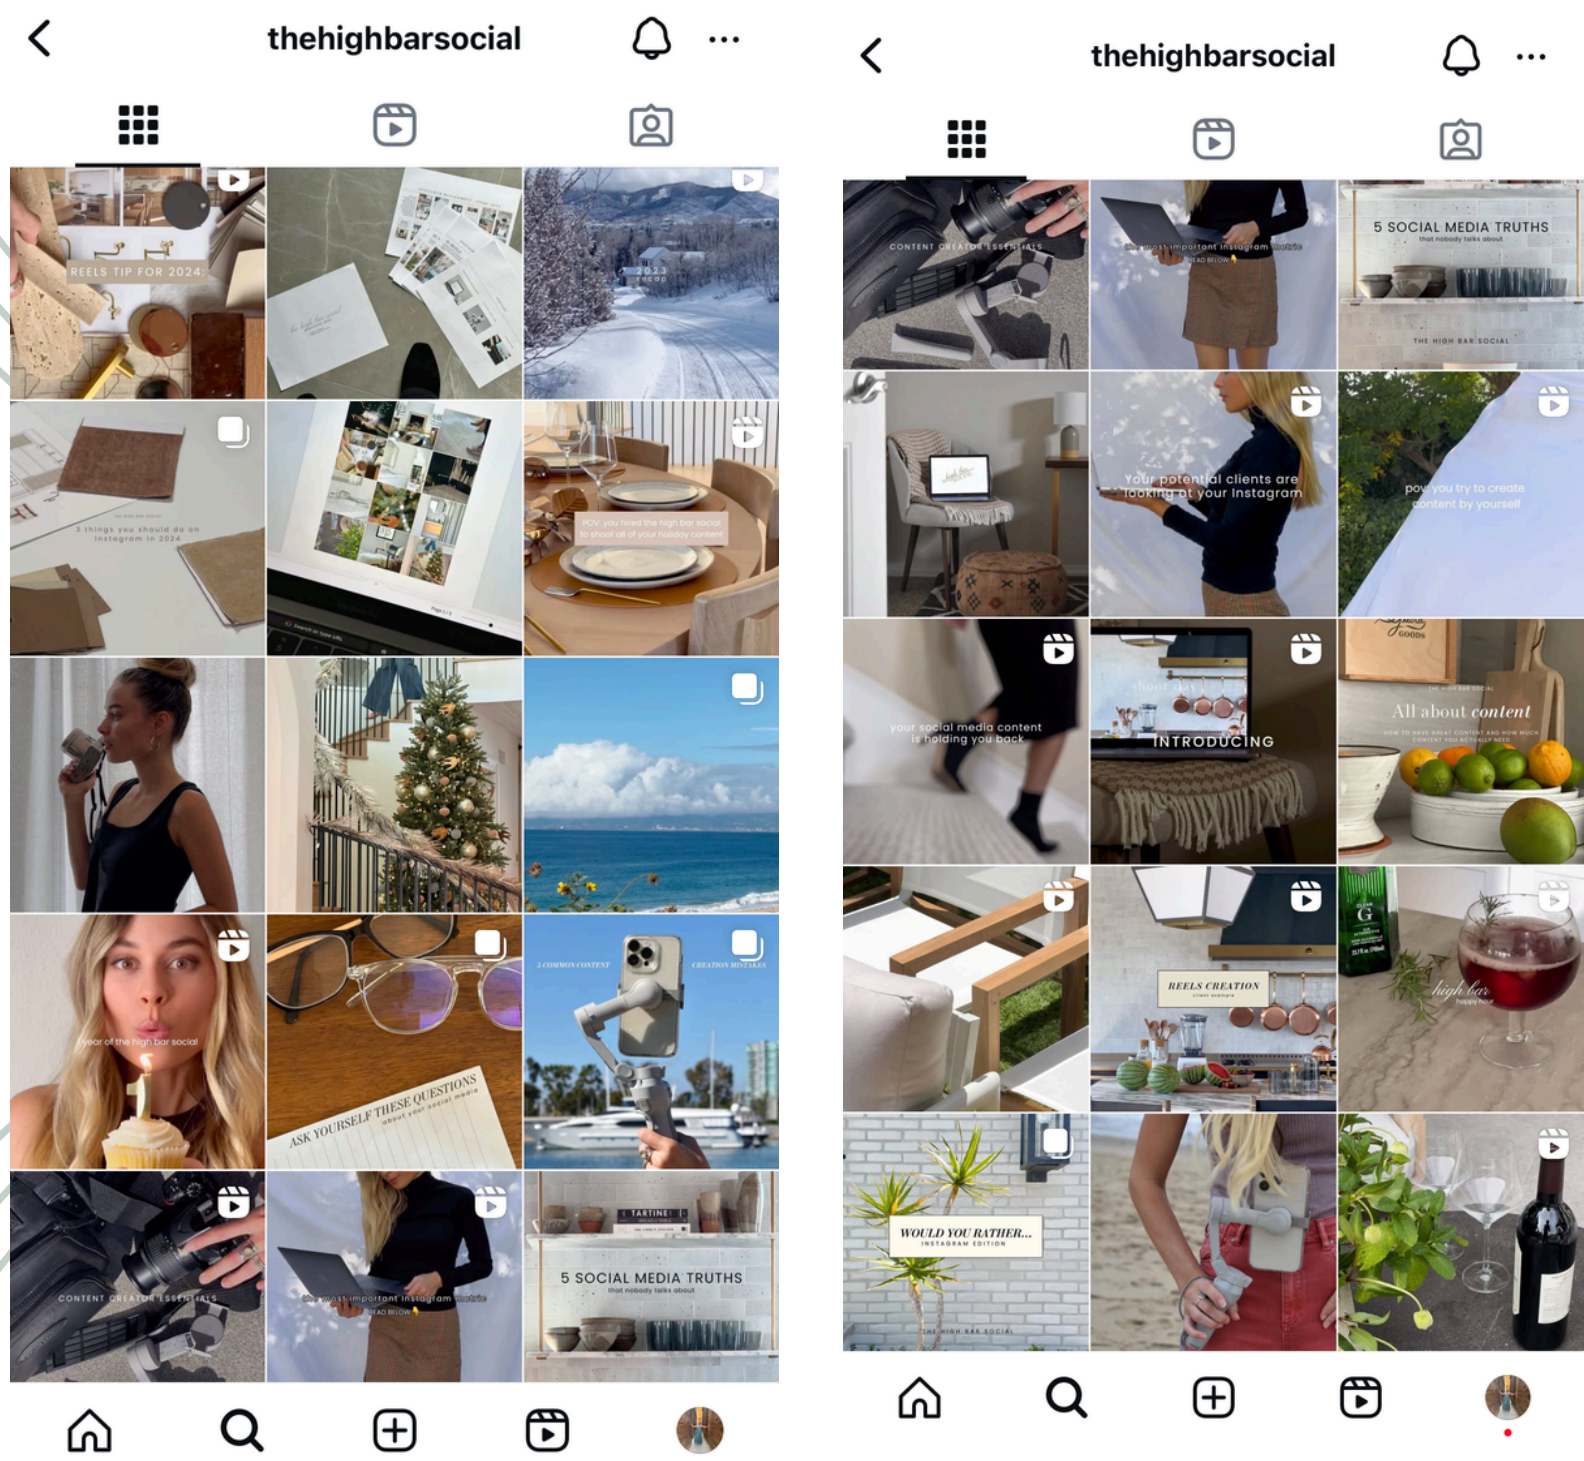

I'm Miranda, a creative passionate about bringing ideas to life through social media and design. With a focus on creative engagement and trending styles, I craft work that's visually engaging and emotionally impactful. I love collaborating with clients to turn their visions into reality, always seeking new challenges and opportunities to grow. When I'm not creating, you'll find me at Pilates or trying new restaurants around LA with friends. Let's make something great together!

New collections

My goal with clients is to create an environment that is interesting and visually enticing so the customer wants to follow and come back to the page. I make it a goal and hobby of mine to keep up with all trends and find new and exciting ways to produce them.

Aesthetic design

Keeping a grid not only visually appealing but engaging for the viewers was a focus of mine particularly for High Bar Social. I encouraged trending styles and a mix between photos and reels to approach clients from multiple angles.
