

Is your Path caught in the rocks? I've been told that this can be some of the best locations to find colorful, exquisite beach glass in all colors of the rainbow. Can the same be said of your Path once you successfully retrieve it from its watery resting place being buffeted by crashing waves? Who knows, until you rescue it and begin where you left off.

The same can be said a Pathways journey and Base Camp. We can get to some places on our own yet, to get to other places, we need a guide to get us there. That's the beauty of this Zoom call ... people with little or no knowledge joining with others who share their tips and tricks on navigating through the Levels and other interesting facets. Even the 'experts' can pick up a new tool for their toolbelt or a form to share with their club members.

Come join us to learn onboarding tools and techniques as well as getting your questions answered. If there are folks on the call with initial questions on how to access and work their transcript, we will handle those first. For veterans, it may be the refresher you need to jumpstart your project completion.

We look forward to meeting YOU at the next Zoom call.
