

Butterbandz & Generation Next

Detroit Brother Duo B2B DJ Set - Blending deep house, techno, and acid through a raw, underground lens.

Butterbandz & Generation Next are producers and DJs operating out of Detroit. They produce for their father Big Strick's label 7 Days Entertainment.

Their sets reflect a shared musical language built on house, deep house, techno, and acid — combining groove, tension, and raw energy in a way that connects the energies on the dance floor.

Their B2B sets are not pre-planned performances, but live conversations — blending their individual styles into a unified sound that bleeds Detroit.

With a growing catalog of vinyl releases and consistent support from DJs and collectors, they bring an authentic underground presence to every set.
