

Butterbandz x Generation Next

Detroit-rooted B2B DJ Set - Blending deep house, techno, and acid through a raw, underground lens.

Butterbandz × Generation Next are a Detroit-rooted DJ brother duo representing the next wave of underground electronic music through a family-driven approach.

Operating out of 7 Days Entertainment, their sets reflect a shared musical language built on deep house, techno, and acid — combining groove, tension, and raw energy in a way that connects directly with dance floors.

Their B2B sets are not pre-planned performances, but live conversations — blending their individual styles into a unified sound that stays rooted in Detroit tradition while pushing forward.

With a growing catalog of vinyl releases and consistent support from DJs and collectors, they bring an authentic underground presence to every set.
