Show comments from our judge, Anne Kauff:

I was really impressed by the quality of the work in this exhibit. I had a difficult time assigning awards as there were so many close contenders. I think most people understand that the judging process is subjective, and that judges have their biases. I was looking at technical competence, but also the creative idea behind the painting. How well did the artist convey the spirit of the work. The design principles I was looking for were a strong composition, color harmony, use of edges, value structure, rhythm - all the things that go into a successful painting. Thank you for sharing your work - it was an honor to be asked to judge it.

1st Place: Lori Gragnani

2nd Place: Jane Frey

3rd Place: John Nolan

4th Place: Mary Kay McMahon
