

VETERAN OF THE DAY

With their proud service to our country, veterans have already given us so much. Yet there are countless veterans whose commitment to excellence continues to shine through after their time in active military service has come to an end. VETERAN OF THE DAY is a reality series that puts a spotlight on the veterans in our community that have made their mark by starting a successful business, coming up with a unique invention, or devoting their time to a charity or cause. From the former Navy Seal in Missouri who provides self-defense classes, to the ex-Marine in California who turned his love of baking into a successful cookie business, to the retired Army doctor in Kentucky who provides care to needy children, by showcasing veterans who have followed a distinguished military career with public and private sector success, VETERAN OF THE DAY strives to bring increased awareness of the vital roles our veterans play in the social fabric of our country.
