THE DESIGN PROCESS:
HOW IT WORKS

Our preliminary meeting:

We'll start with a 90-minute meeting to discuss your goals for your home, your lifestyle, and the feelings you want to experience when the project is completed. I will also take any measurements needed, sketch out your space and make notes that will help me with concept development.

The preparation phase:

Once a scope of work is agreed upon, we begin concept development. Here we get into the nitty-gritty of the design - it's where the fun really begins!

Drawings packages, concept work and mood boards are created, with virtual or in-person meetings to round out the direction of the design and finalize decisions. Shopping trips to preferred vendors and materials selection meetings are also included in this phase.

Implementation:

With the decisions made throughout the preparation phase, an approved design guide is handed off to your selected general contractor. Here is where the magic becomes reality, as we watch the concepts we developed come to life. I'll perform regular site visits to trouble-shoot any challenges and answer any questions the trades may have.

Once your dream space is created, we'll document the transformation and review your experience. Then it's time to fully enjoy your new space!

Thank you - I look forward to working with you!!
