To Whom it May Concern:

I'm writing a statement regarding the safety of my nieces, Andrew Conboy's children, while he is providing for their care. This is in response to a recently filed Order for Protection.

I have observed Andrew on hundreds of occasions during his parenting time, including in his home as well as in other settings including waterparks, parks, zoos, and on vacations to Florida. I have observed him being attentive, responsible, and protective. I believe the children are safe and well taken care of under his care. Andrew loves his children more than anything and they are his top priority. Unlike other parents, he is fully engaged with his kids.

I am aware of two specific claims that were stated by his wife, Kirsten. She made a claim that sunscreen was not applied to the children on our most recent trip to Florida. This claim is false. My husband, father, Andrew, and I applied sunscreen to the children. On past family Florida trips, Kirsten did not allow us to apply sunscreen to her kids since she believes its toxic. So, we purchased a product that I believed Kirsten would approve of, and the applications were applied repeatedly. We also brought hats and purchased additional hats and had long sleeve swim wear. Andrew did his best to keep the kids in shaded areas, and we did some of our ocean side adventures after the sun was not an issue. We also moved our swimming activities to evening. Kirsten also made a claim that the kids were not supervised properly on a recent visit to Dave and Busters. This is absolutely not true. My husband, Jeremy, my dad, and I were at Dave and Busters. Drew was with his children and spent most of the time all together at each game. Certain times, the kids went off with one of the adults to pay different games. I even held Quinn quite a bit while Drew played games with the other kids. We have a very good relationship with Andrew's kids. In fact, we do many activities together. Andrew made certain that all of the kids were properly supervised.

Andrew's kids have been through a lot this past year. I'm concerned for the safety of the kids under Kirsten Conboy's sole care. For example, I shared with Kirsten about Childhood ACEs and suggested the older girls see a professional to talk about what has happened this past year. She swore and called me a "bitch" in front of the kids and said that she is her kids' therapist. Kirsten Conboy has left her kids in Andrew's care multiple occasions without sharing where she was going and left for days and months at a time.

I believe that the children should have the opportunity to be with both their Father and Mother in the current parenting agreement that is been in place since October 2022.

I acknowledge that my statements are correct and truthful.
