SOCORRO ISLAND

Socorro Island (or to be more correct, the Revillagigedo Archipelago) is a UNESCO World Heritage Site and home to an extraordinary population of giant manta rays (Mobula birostris) and bottlenose dolphins (Tursiops truncatus), that are usually as friendly and interactive as puppies. 45 years ago, these gorgeous mantas appeared on our first Baja Expedition to Socorro and from the beginning sought out unique and intimate interaction with divers that continues to this day. The icing on the cake? More than 10+ species of sharks, turtles, huge schools of jacks, tuna, and, in season, humpbacks, pilot whales and even schooling silky sharks. Gateway: Cabo San Lucas.

Socorro Island • Giant Mantas & Dolphins

November - July
9 Days, 8 Nights

From US$3,095

Explorer, Belle Amie, Gallant Lady, UnderSea

Located a one-day sail south of Cabo San Lucas in the Eastern Tropical Pacific Ocean, this chain of four active volcanic islands is an adventure to the edge of the world.

The World's Friendliest Mantas & Dolphins

Yes, they really are! Nowhere else in the world do giant mantas routinely approach divers in deeply emotional and beautiful encounters. With dolphins emulating the mantas!

Is It Hard to Get Out to the Islands?

Not really. It depends on who you sail with. Our heavily built stabilized ships are perfect for ocean passages and frankly, anti-seasickness meds such as Scopolamine have opened this kind of remote diving up to many divers who would have never previously travelled out here.

Why Choose Nautilus?

Safety. Excellence in guest experience. A happy crew of men and women from all over the world welcoming you into our family. And a continuing effort to keep our prices lower than any of our competitors.

Our sister company pioneered Socorro diving in 1978 and we have steadily upped the ante ever since with constantly improved ships, features and services and most importantly, with the same ISM safety certificates as the largest cruise ships around the world. We have explored every nook and cranny around the islands and promise to work tirelessly to give you the best possible diving vacation. Fine dining, super comfy beds with top quality linen, internet, hot tubs and a great selection of wine and single malts are the icing on the cake!

Reliable Animal Encounters

Where Africa boasts the Big Five, Socorro is home to some of the world's most coveted ocean giants.

The reason to dive Socorro is for the giant mantas. You are almost guaranteed to experience friendly dolphins. Sharks are in abundance in this ocean oasis, and while Mother Ocean changes week to week, month to month, you will likely see silky, galapagos, white tip, silver tip and hammerhead sharks. Keep your fingers crossed for tiger sharks, whale sharks, schooling hammerheads and so much more. In-season you might even have an in-water experience with humpback whales.

GUADALUPE ISLAND

Thanks to Hollywood, great white sharks (Carcharodon carcharias) might be the most underappreciated and misunderstood animal in the ocean. Make no mistake, getting in the water with these white sharks is deeply emotional, scary, peaceful, exhilarating, awe-inspiring and much more.

The Best White Shark Diving on the Planet

Many divers make the mistake of thinking that cage diving is boring or not “real diving”. The reality is that this is highly addictive diving – many divers who were initially skeptical now return once or twice a year. Some of those clients have now made 20+ trips!

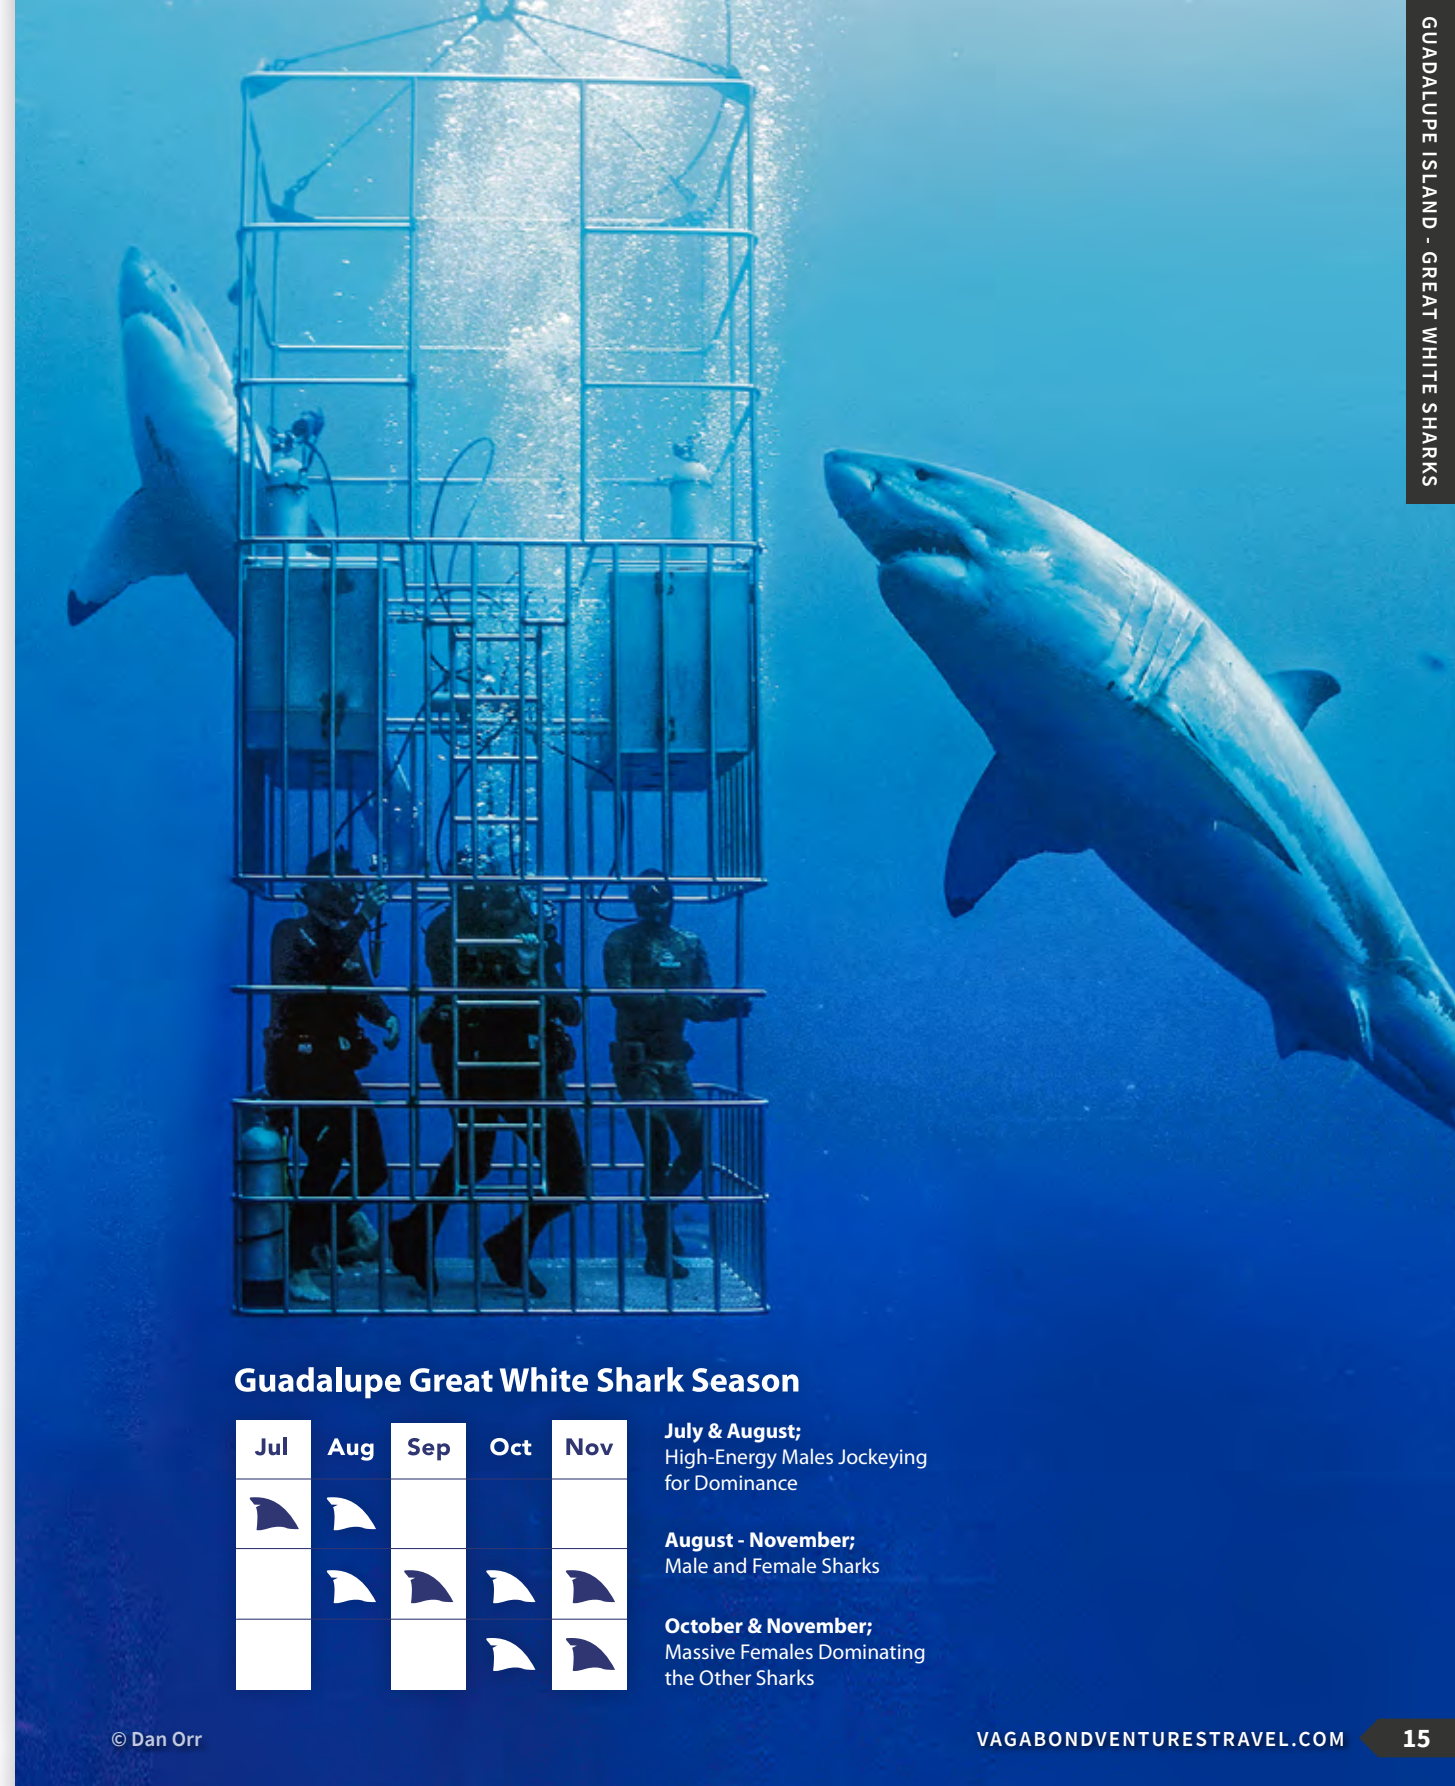

What makes Guadalupe so special is the large population of white sharks in season – 380 individuals identified and still counting – the topaz blue water, typical visibility so clear that from the back of the boat you can see sharks approaching from out beyond the anchor chain, and a beautiful anchorage virtually always calm and sheltered from the ocean swell.

Perfect for Both Divers and Non-Divers

Non-divers enjoy unlimited time in our surface cages. But why not become a scuba diver by getting your SSI or PADI certification at our SeeCreatures locations pg.62. As a newly certified diver you can bag some submersible cage time with one of our divemasters. Imagine looking up as great white sharks circle overhead!

NAUTILUS UNDER SEA

- A Surface Cage
- B Submersible Cage

We are constantly upgrading and improving our cages. The cages on your trip may look different than in brochure photos.

We Want You to Compare Us to Our Competition!

Our ambition is to maximize your great white shark encounters at the best pricing of any of our competitors. We offer unlimited diving in our surface cages and, for certified divers, at least three dives a day in our submersible cages. Cages open at 6:30am and stay open until either everyone is sated, or it gets dark! Oh, and on the last dive day of the trip, we don't take off at noon like the other guys, we keep diving until 5pm before getting underway for home.

SEA OF CORTEZ

Dive the World's Aquarium

Imagine loads of playful California sea lions all over you, a huge school of big eye jacks storming divers, schools of skipjacks, turtles, tuna and a wide variety of fish. Sharks, shipwrecks and giant mantas if we are lucky. Beach walks. Water temps and visibility rising to mid-80's by September and vis +100-ft. With seas often so calm that it seems like your yacht is barely moving. This is the Sea of Cortez in peak diving season from July to November.

Dive Your Own Way With or Without a Divemaster

We cater to the entire spectrum of diving ability and experience. Experienced divers are welcome to explore most of our dive sites at their own pace without a divemaster.*

*Divers are required to be guided by a divemaster in national parks

SEA OF CORTEZ

Airplane Supported Mobula & Orca Expeditions

Our beautiful Sea of Cortez is home to many different and exciting migrations, including one of our favourites, the Munk's Pygmy Devil Ray commonly known as mobula rays (Mobula munkiana). From April to July, hundreds of thousands of mobulas gather in dense schools. Where there are mobulas, there are killer whales (Orcinus orca). We use dedicated aircraft support to spot our snorkelers and divers onto mobulas and orcas and also whale sharks, blue and fin whales and much more!

Can I Really Get In the Water With Orcas?

YES! In our experience, there is a 100% chance that you will be able to get in the water with schooling mobula rays and 50% chance of splashing with orcas. These killers whales are part of the Eastern Tropical Pacific population and we have identified and got in the water with at least three different family groups. Our experience is that the orcas swim past Cabo San Lucas, San José and Cabo Pulmo and then spend time cruising as far as Bahía de La Paz before turning around and retracing their route southward. We have been running trips in this area since 1974 and have a great network of friends and contacts keeping an eye out for the orcas. We will dispatch a dedicated spotter airplane at least three or four days every week to guide our high-speed skiffs towards the animals.

Interaction Is Always on the Animals' Terms

We do not chase or allow harassment of the animals and depend on them to choose to interact with us. We have had excellent success with interactions.

IMPORTANT NOTE:

This is a physically active expedition. Sure, you can spend most or all of your time watching the action from our air-conditioned mothership or from our high-speed RHIB or pangas. You can also choose to spend as much time as you want on and in the water. It is long days out on the water if you don't want to miss a single opportunity to get in the water with the animals. This is the perfect trip for divers and snorkelers alike. Limited scuba diving opportunities will be available.

MAGDALENA BAY

Every fall, the waters around Magdalena Bay teem with life when the sardine run draws in predators from seabirds to sharks, sea lions, whales, dolphins and the world's fastest fish, the striped marlin (Kajikia audax). This is an unforgettable experience for snorkelers, divers and free-divers.

The excitement of marlin going after a bait ball right in front of you is off the clock! But there is more to Magdalena Bay than the sardine run. It's a gorgeous place to visit for the pristine beaches, mangroves and sardine runs. The diving is great! We work in partnership with ex-fishermen panga captains who turned to eco-experiences and have the knowledge and network to absolutely maximize your experience here.

- Convenient departures from Cabo, San José and La Paz.
- Transfer by land in 2021 and by sea voyage from Cabo in 2022.
- Smaller is better! 12 guests max on each trip. Not more than 6 in each panga.
- Perfect adventures for snorkelers, divers and free-divers. All are welcome!
- Limited scuba diving available by prior request.

Illegal Fishing Pressure on Magdalena Bay, What You Can Do to Help:

- Come and visit. Take photos and video.
- Listen to the stories from the panga captains and locals about illegal factory fishing of the sardine for the purpose of dog and cat food.
- Share your impressions on social media and tell your friends about what you learned.
- Public pressure is our best bet to put an end to illegal industrial exploitation of the last major sardine run in this part of the world.

Safety First, Always

Uncompromising safety. Safety is something we take very seriously.

All of our ships are ISM-certified under external annual audit by classification society. This is the same safety certification as the largest passenger ships and tankers and is unique to us in the dive industry.

Our ships were constructed with careful consideration of non-combustible materials and are all equipped with sprinkler systems, redundant smoke detectors wired to wheelhouse alarm panels, emergency lighting, and firefighting SCBA gear. Each component is a part of our compliance with SOLAS fire and lifesaving requirements. We are very proud that Nautilus Explorer was the first SOLAS-safety-certified dive boat in the world.

You can expect to see your crew perform a fire drill when you are onboard and we will be sure to demonstrate all the emergency exits during your safety briefing. We even equip each guest and crew berth with individual EEBD emergency devices. We don't just talk about safety. We invest in safety and live it 24/7.

Safety Terms Decoded:

- ISM: International Safety Management
- SCBA: Self-Contained Breathing Apparatus Not SCUBA - this is for emergency firefighting!
- SOLAS: Safety of Life at Sea Intl. standards for vessel construction, equipment, operation
- EEBD: Emergency Escape Breathing Devices

“We are just returning from an extraordinary trip to the Revillagigedo Archipelago. Everything about this trip was extraordinary. The Nautilus Belle Amie is a beautiful dive vessel with extremely comfortable staterooms and meals that would be comparable to many fine restaurants.

The crew are truly guest-oriented and are some of the best I've seen in years of dive travel to all parts of the world. The divemasters are, without a doubt, some of the most well-trained and safety-conscious I have had the pleasure of diving with. Even under the most challenging diving conditions, the dive staff are there to make each and every experience safe and enjoyable.

In 15 trips with Nautilus, I have never been disappointed and I am looking forward to my next adventure with them!”

Iconic Adventures for Mindful Travelers of All Ages

“Timo” Means founded Baja Expeditions almost 50 years ago and led the way in pioneering eco-adventures in Baja California and passion for conservation. Opening up whale programs by working with local ex-fishermen panga captains. Building and operating one of the first liveaboard dive and eco-adventure boats in the world. Kayaking trips in the Sea of Cortez. Scuba diving. The first trips to Socorro Island, bravely heading out into open ocean where nobody had dared before. Saving Espiritu Santo Island from commercial exploitation. Setting up low-impact eco-friendly camps. We are grateful and appreciative to Timo for all of this and so much more, and honour his memory by continuing the legacy with a fresh infusion of capital, excellence in guest experience and top-of-the-line equipment.

San Ignacio Lagoon • Gray Whales

Mid-January - Mid-April

Glamping Camp
13 Glamping Tents, 26 Guests

Baja is the only place in the world where gray whales (Eschrichtius robustus) swim up to pangas to be stroked, petted, kissed, and even hugged. It's incredible. Interaction is entirely on the whales' terms, with mama whales even pushing their calves against the side of the boats to be stroked. Nobody should miss out on this experience.

Our camp is located at San Ignacio Lagoon, one of three birthing and breeding gray whale lagoons in the world, all of which are located in Baja. San Ignacio is home to the densest population of whales with the most reliable encounters. It's the only lagoon untouched by development. The whales start arriving in late-November and begin their long trek north to British Columbia and Alaska in the Spring.

We offer a unique program that is very different from our competition, with fast, easy flight connections from Cabo San Lucas, an average of three whale watching sessions a day (*weather permitting), a glamping camp and staff who love what they do, safety and excellence in guest experience that we continually strive for.

Glamping Camp

We say "NO" to tiny tents with cots, sleeping bags and a couple of shared toilets and showers for the whole camp! Our tents are windproof, insulated and heated for maximum comfort, with ensuite bathrooms and showers, hot and cold running water with good pressure, and 24-hour power. Not to mention "real beds" with fine linen.

Enormous thought has gone into every detail, from a fire pit to a fine selection of wine, craft beer, single malt scotches and fine dining. We even have a pool table in the bar and lounge tent and Wi-Fi-access throughout the camp.

VIRTUAL TOUR

© Captain Mike Lever

The Most Amazing Whale Experience in the World

It's almost impossible to imagine how amazing these whale interactions are but there is even more to the lagoon than the whales. The camp is nestled in the desert on the edge of the lagoon and surrounded by tall mesas. Because this is the desert, the wind can blow and sometimes it's too lumpy to be out on the water. If this happens, one of our favourite things is to venture out to the vast salt flats which are absolutely dazzling white and go for a walk. What's even more amazing is to head out on the salt flats at night under a brilliant canopy of stars...

Walking, hiking, borrowing one of our mountain bikes, kayaking and bird watching are all additional pastimes at the lagoon. You might see coyotes, bobcats (which are rare but we do see them around camp), herons, ospreys and beautiful white egrets. Every evening, one of our naturalists will be sure to offer a different presentation on the whales and local flora and fauna. And did we mention the night sky?? Apologies for repeating ourselves, but it's absolutely brilliant!!

BLUE & FIN WHALES OF LORETO & MECHUDO CORRIDOR

Blue whales (Balaenoptera musculus) are the largest animals to have ever lived on our planet. Including dinosaurs. Fin whales (Balaenoptera physalus) are almost as big. Blues are loners, extremely endangered and spend most of their time in open ocean hunting for food where they consume 5 to 8 tons every day. Their tongue weighs as much as an elephant! Every winter they gather south of Loreto in the Mechudo Corridor to mate and calve which gives an extraordinary whale watching opportunity whether it's from our kayaks, sailboat, 55-ft Westerly or 116-ft expedition yacht.

Eco-Friendly Camp

Stunning beaches and the beautiful Sea of Cortez meet on the shore of Espiritu Santo, which is delightfully pristine and off-the-grid despite being only 18 miles north of La Paz. Tim Means, founder of Baja Expeditions, saved the island from major development by purchasing two properties to block the developers and then raising funds to buy the rest of the island and arranging its donation to the people of Mexico as the country's first national park. There are no permanent residents on the island and we hold one of the few limited minimum-impact base camp permits.

With full mothership support, we offer all sorts of awesome adventures from our unique week-long "swim treks" complete with swimming coaches to dive trips based right in the heart of some of the best Sea of Cortez diving, to base camp for kayaking adventures, to simply relaxing on the beach with a good book and supply of cold drinks from our hostesses. You will be able to enjoy delicious meals and excellence in guest service.

Special Features Included With Your Stay on the Island:

- Scuba diving
- Snorkel, swim or dive with the sea lions of Los Islotes
- Get in the water with the giant whale sharks of Mogote
- Guided kayaking or paddle boarding
- Swim trek (In season)
- Mobulas (in season)
- Whale watching (in season)

KAYAKING & PADDLE BOARDING

Specializing in catering to paddlers of all ages, fitness levels and experience.

Mothership support or expedition kayaking. It's your choice of course. We pioneered paddling in the Sea of Cortez more than 40 years ago and remain unique in offering mothership supported kayaking. Sure, some outfits offer panga-supported. But our really special feature is using +50-ft support boats that carry all your camping gear as well as fresh produce and fruit AND allow for a fresh water shower every night. Mothership paddling allows you to rest and ride along whenever you want. It allows easy voyages between islands so that we can cover a lot more ground. And it means that your kayak will be super light and easy to paddle.

Think of our private charters as your floating, self-sustained, luxury base camp complete with fine dining, excellence in guest experience and luxurious touches.

We know you have a choice when it comes to yacht charters. What sets MÁS apart is our deep love for the Sea of Cortez and Baja California, combined with the long experience and expertise of our iconic sister companies and passion for conservation. Baja Expeditions pioneered eco-experiences and liveaboard boat charters almost 50 years ago with the well-loved Don José. Nautilus has been wooing guests for 30 years and is a world leader in liveaboard charters. MÁS brings all of this together with an emphasis on luxury for small groups of 1 - 12 guests.

On a private charter, you decide where and when you want to go. Whether it's a relaxing cruise around the southern Sea of Cortez or a voyage way north to a place like Bahía de Los Ángeles, known for the largest aggregation of whale sharks on the west coast of the Americas, but is so difficult to get to that it's rare to see other boats in the park. Our speciality is the Mechudo Corridor in whale season from Loreto south to Espiritu Santo - you will get your fill of blue and fin whales, humpback whales, snorkel with sea lions and whale sharks (weather permitting) and we'll keep our eyes peeled for orcas, sperm and sei whales!

Creature Comforts • Express 1 & 2

 Cabo San Lucas, Gordo Banks, Sea of Cortez

We are darned proud of our brand-new in 2021 twin 48-ft (15m) sister ships. These beauties are powered with twin cummins 450-hp engines and cruise at 30 kmh with a very comfortable ride that smaller boats just can't match. Each vessel is very well set up for 24 divers with lots of space for gear, suntanning and relaxing areas, an upper bridge with lots of seating and an eagle-eye view, four dinette tables and of course, a head (which is sailor talk for a bathroom).

Kayaks & Paddle Boards

We maintain a fleet of 50 permitted kayaks and 17 paddle boards.

As the pioneering kayaking company of Baja, we have learned a thing or two over almost 50 years including the need for the very best quality kayaks and carbon fibre paddles. Our fibreglass kayaks are Canadian-made "Seawards" which are custom-built with excellent performance and sea kindness. We also have plastic kayaks for day boat rough beach operations at places like San Ignacio Lagoon.

BONUS FEATURE

We offer either expedition kayaking or mothership support, which means we pack your gear and you travel light. Plus you can rest, relax and ride-along whenever you want.

 Super Pangas

 Sea of Cortez, Gordo Banks, Cabo Pulmo, San José del Cabo, San Ignacio Lagoon, Magdalena Bay

Pangas are great. Super pangas are even better. They are the F150 pickup truck of the seas, which is why we have 14 of them.

Fast. Comfortable. Sea kindly. Easy to get in and out of. Outboard powered 115 - 250 hp depending on destination.

 Inde 2, Amigos 1 & 3

 Cabo San Lucas

Inde 2 is our 4th generation custom designed and built dive tender, a design that we fine-tuned and perfected during our 18 years of running trips in the chilly and rough waters of Alaska and British Columbia. It is exceptionally stable, seaworthy and easy to get in and out of.

We inherited Amigos 1 and 3 with our purchase of Amigos del Mar, the fabled Cabo San Lucas dive operator of 30 years. These boats have long been marketed as “the most comfortable dive boats in Cabo”.

NOTICE OF RISK

We are excited to have you join us, but feel compelled to point out some of the risks involved in one of our adventures around Baja, Mexico and the surrounding ocean.

We operate at the whim of Mother Nature. Our ships and camps have connectivity with shore operations, and we carefully monitor weather conditions and maintain communication lines for urgent and emergency situations. Our ocean-going ships are equipped with satellite communication technology, full-time data links, internet at sea and marine radios. We need you to be aware that there is always a risk of adverse weather, mechanical breakdown, errors or mistakes made by our crew, medical evacuations or other interruptions to your trip that are beyond our control.

Dealing with animals involves risk. Camping out in the desert involves risk. Going to sea involves risk. This is not Disneyland. We give careful guidance on peak season and our previous experiences with the animals. But there is no guarantee that you will see the animals you are hoping for. Mother Nature doesn't work that way. Guests and crew alike are susceptible to accidents, tripping and falling, sprains or broken bones, strokes, heart attacks or medical conditions such as appendicitis, pancreatitis, diabetic complications, heat or sun exhaustion, dehydration, severe infections, abscesses or other emergency conditions.

Diving can be challenging and may not be suitable for less-experienced divers. You must be a trained and certified scuba diver to dive with us unless you are enrolled in one of our training programs. Guests are responsible for their own dive safety. Our divemasters and instructors are your "dive guides" and are primarily responsible for ensuring top quality dives, critter pointing and the best possible guest experience. You must have good buoyancy control. Our guides are not responsible for teaching primary dive skills or looking after guests who do not have basic buoyancy skills. These are difficult and trying times during the COVID-19 crisis. You can be sure that we will do our best to protect the health and safety of our guests and crew including the following core principles; temperature and health monitoring, personal hygiene with frequent hand washing, using sanitizer, not touching face, coughing or sneezing into one's elbow, social distancing, disinfecting with 1-week hold times using fogging machines, isolation, and quarantine or emergency airvac to shore for possible cases. HOWEVER, we cannot promise that you won't come in contact with someone infected with the virus and we cannot promise that you won't potentially get sick.

Aerial medevac is available at or close by most of our destinations. We require that all guests have insurance that covers emergency care in Mexico including aerial medevac and hospital procedures. A medical evacuation flight might cost $10,000 and local hospital charges could be in excess of $20,000. You will have to arrange for payment up front for these costs if you require evac or hospital stay and your insurance won't cover the charges. "Dive Assure" offers excellent coverage and is highly recommended. Click "here" to arrange coverage. Click "here" to view our Liability release and waiver form.

A sample liability release and waiver requires your acceptance, agreement and signature when you visit SeeCreatures before boarding your ship or arriving at camp.

We wish you an excellent trip, loads of animals and a beautiful and safe experience.
