ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Madison Lawson writes speculative fiction novels full of suspense, social commentary, and complex relationships. Growing up in a small Texas town, Madison began exploring the world through the page so much that she often lost sleep to finish a book, got detention for writing a story in class, and convinced herself it was okay to read Harry Potter one more time. She has published a dozen short stories, many of which won awards.

Madison is an English graduate from Texas A&M University and currently resides in North Carolina with her dog, Teddy Lupin, where she is earning her M.A. in English.

In the near future, everyone has the legal right to murder one person in their life and while waiting in line to offer a name for The Registration, Lynell Mize hears her name called and now has 14 days to survive.

THE REGISTRATION

You can't outrun the Registration.

Imagine it's legal to commit one murder in your lifetime—if you Register the victim and accomplish the kill within fourteen days. So when Lynell Mize stands in line to Register the man who abused her as a child, she's shocked to hear a stranger Register her to be killed. Who would waste their one legal murder on her, someone they don't even know? Desperate to survive the next two weeks, she must find out who wants her dead—and why.

Easier said than done as Lynell soon discovers that multiple strangers have used their Registration on her. Along the way, she reunites with her estranged husband who is determined to dig up a past Lynell prefers to keep buried. With only days left to live, Lynell is determined to uncover the truth and survive a destiny, not of her choosing. Everyone she knows could be her killer. Any day could be her last.

A woman with long dark hair is running away from the camera down a brightly lit hallway. The hallway has a greenish-yellow glow. In the bottom left corner, there is a large, semi-transparent clock face with the numbers 2 and 3 visible. The overall mood is urgent and suspenseful.
