About Us

Divergent Resource Services (DRS) is an agile, innovative, and proudly Western Australian-owned company delivering premium maintenance, asset inspection, field services, technical writing, environmental and heritage support, and professional trades solutions across Australia's mining, construction, and industrial sectors.

We blend practical capability with divergent thinking and inclusive values to serve both commercial and community-led initiatives. Our partnerships with Traditional Owner groups, Aboriginal corporations, and environmental stakeholders reinforce our commitment to cultural respect, safety, and sustainable practices.

Whether we're inspecting assets, supporting shutdowns, or walking Country—DRS delivers with care, compliance, and professionalism.
