PATTERNING ACTIVITIES

Ten Red Apples

Patterning is a pre-academic academic that helps children develop base skills needed for many areas of learning: attention, prediction, confidence, scanning, resiliency, language, coding, reading, perceptual skills, patience…and so much more. (And it can be just plain fun!)

We enjoy using hands-on materials (such as food, toys, and even our own bodies), but photos, drawings work, too!

Print these images for use with apple patterning, graphing, and other activities you think would be fun. (Let us know what works for you at loren@LookLookLearn.com so we can add your name and idea to the website!)
