

The Other Jerusalem

"The Structure of Infinity"

By:EPAS

The Other Jerusalem

By:EPAS

Copyrights © 2008

Notice of Rights:

All rights reserved

For additional copies and book information contact:

www.parchmenthorsepress.info

www.claybasketarts.info

ISBN 0-9772617-4-3

Library of Congress Card Control Number

2008932611

Printed in the United States of America

The Other Jerusalem

For the first time in your recorded history there is truth regarding the essence, death and ascension of the one called Christ...and for that matter the true location of the original hidden Jerusalem.....

2007A.D

Preface

And in the deepest and farthest reaches of the netherworld the Radiant Light of The Mother Star always shone brighter than the largest Star...for the Light was of the Divine.

It was the closest energy to that of Divinity and within its glow was contained the knowledge—the gnosis of life.

The awareness was without form, without hesitation and fully aware of every movement within the entirety of the anomaly of the life force variance.

To the untrained it was not there, to those attuned to its essence it was the very force found at the matrix of all life.

It was the elemental point of Eternal Being.

It was the one pivotal point of the focus of the true Nature of God, the first point of awareness from the Godhead.

It was the Ontarian, the Christ Consciousness, the very vernal point of existence.

And within this emissary lay the possible futures for all awareness, universes wide, to recover the way back to the fulcrum point of their beginning.

And so it was in the deeper, wider spaces of the hidden cosmic Divinity.

The essence lingered there like a fine fragrance ready to be embraced and inhaled, on both levels of acute awareness.

Prologue

The Path Way or The Pathos

The Star Children had begun in earnest their work to weave the Web of Life and create a cradle of universal civilization for which the delineation would be made regarding the Path Way and the footpath.

One would lead to ultimate recovery, one to the division of a lost humanity.

Final preparations were underway for the underlings of the remnant of the band (the wave length) of the Children of the Mother Star to light the journey home for those of her beings returning to the awareness of their birth.

And all was as it should be in the understanding of the Beings of Awareness and as it must be amongst the once born of the Earth.

Earth had been a battleship for some millennium now as it raced its awkward way across the etheric strings of the wider universe.

The contents of this book follow the beginnings of life on Earth and bring with it the first clear and correct account of the organized blueprint.

This was the stylized and crafted plan put forth by the wider intelligence to develop the necessary venue for the eventual recovery of full awareness for mankind.

It is now time for the telling of this grand plan and the enactment that saw to the creation of life on Earth.

In a time and place outside created reality they began their plans of departure.

This intelligentsia had been gathered from the realms of the wider understanding to bring together the organization of life on Earth.

Each being within those assembled had specific duties to enact once they arrived on Earth.

Duties they alone had been given the understanding to place into the weave.

The weave that would become the carefully crafted, pseudo reality environment for the growing of the race called humanity.

To insure their placements were correct to the nth degree Divinity had sculptured a plan so precise that it included within its delivery a fail safe.

This failsafe was structured so secret it was given to only one Awareness outside Divinity's own existence and the knowledge of its content would only be awakened in due time.

Creation had been designed to recover from an eventual sabotage that awaited it by creating an alternative path for history to travel until the foreclosure of the threat had been completed.

Within the recovery of this planned revival was to be the exposure of the allowed deceit.....

and the time was now for this to step forward.

To ensure this, a Radiant Light had been dispatched at the Birth of Being who held fail-safe the hidden "tone key" set to bring awareness in its due time.

Chapter One

The Star Woman and the Gourd of Creation

The turning of the Divine Wheel of Life began in the Star System 9th from the Great Nebula.

Along the edge and rim was traced the profoundness of the re-birth of a planet.

And within this re-birth came the force of life that had waited for eons to be birthed.

It was the life force of the starry heavens and they in turn gave life to the masses.

The knowledge of the Elder Gods was placed within the seeds of the Star Gourd.

Well placed and well hidden until such time as they should come forth to enlighten the race of beings that would come to be called “humankind.”

The perfection of the essences of knowing stirred to life in the ethers of the Divine Awareness.

Such in the same way it is with the gourd, male and female within one seed.

The Star Woman was tiny in stature and around her neck she wore the tiniest of flasks; a Star Gourd of sapphire blue with brilliant snow-white diamond stars etched into the corked flask.

It hung about her neck on a silken ribbon woven of Star beads that shone like etched crystal.

One would have thought this fragile and delicate indeed, but the structure was indestructible and impenetrable.

Only the hands of the tiny Star Woman held the cosmic power and then only when called by the Divine, to bring forth the contents safely hidden within the flask shaped like the Star Gourd.

For it held within it seeds, tucked safely inside a micro cosmism of red soil, a small drop of water from the oceans whose drops had formed the realms of the wider awareness of Divinity.

Etched in the Star Woman's hidden memory were the patterns and fabric of the life force to be called forth and only the voice of Pure Awareness held within Divinity could bring this memory to recall.

Within this new hope was the future of the ones already gone before.

For this hope was to become the vanguard of the new order.

It was the voyage of the hope of eternity.

And this all rested on the power preparing its way to be poured forth.

The power which held the voices of the Elder Gods.

EPAS speaks

I am from the Mother Star 12th from the Great Nebula. I was called forth for this journey to be the container for the 600 original essences.

Our teachings come from the Elder Gods of the 9 Heavens.

The essences came from over 100 different systems of understandings, each having a task in this journey.

Only six of the 601, myself included, came from the Mother Star.

I came to understand that my task in this undertaking was to carry the flask that held all 600 essence patterns, who were chosen for this work.

My work came first and last in a way.

I journeyed across created time and space carrying the womb of the world to be formed in the stylized gourd.

And, as well when it is time for the tone to be sounded, my call will go out to those of the human kind who can hear and bid them return.

Arrival

Within the tiny flask 600 essences lay safe, harbored from harm.

Each essence was a seed holding great life.

A millennium of thought (planning) had gone into this pattern of redemption.

The plans were simple; send a messenger to establish a garden, a place to procreate the possibility of discovery.

The true plans were two fold: discovery and repair.

Discovery: Something, somewhere had begun to deteriorate, small niches really, not yet in the wider universes, invisible in the realms of the Divine Beings, but detectable or at least the probability of detection existed at the source of Divinity.

Repair: To understand and resolve this probable tear in the fabric of being by developing a genesis's planet. Design it carefully as to be the laboratory of healing for the probable rift. A rift of a magnitude greater than ever had been conceived.

So a call had gone out to the greater minds of the wider understanding to establish a calling of the 601 original essences.

They would then weave a complete epistle of conjecture designed to manifest as a theorem of possible, probable evolution.

The group's mind was designed to be holographic in nature and altruistic by design.

The continuum was exactly 600 essences and 1 container.

As the container, I was the holographic mead hall.

I was the particle of the beginning and the call to return.

I am the Star Woman from the Mother Star 12th from the Great Nebula.

The 601 were the best of the best of their kind; professors of being; each of them a particle that formed a cosmic Library of Knowledge/Knowing.

They were the true form of a holographic projection of unified thought designed to procreate the possibility of recovery.

It was to be a structured recovery of the balance of order and refinement.

For somehow within the wider universe, the Pure Light of Reflection was beginning to show signs of a shadow, where none had been before.

So from the place of life without end the Elder Gods set out a knowledge base to ponder mortality.

And with this they created the possibility to reconfigure the basis of all awareness.

It was a designed diagram from balance to chaos to recovery.

In theory it was brilliant!!!

Theorems for the most part work in refined order when given the proper guidance.

However there are some venues where probabilities are not etched in stone that minor and major devastations can and do occur.

Such it was with this procreation.

And so it would come to be that the carefully placed beliefs of mankind would shape their reality and foster them into believing their created illusions.

Chapter Two

Birth of Natural Philosophy

And the time came when the efforts were focused on the newly formed planet yet to be named.

The travelers undertook to traverse the heavens and arrival was destined to be at the foremost pivotal time in the evolution of the newly formed world.

They carried within the holographic patterns the elements of the Philosophy of Natural History.

It was to be the birth of Natural Philosophy.

In order to pre-curve this they must establish the history on this new planet.

A constructed history that would one day, guided by trail and error, come to highlight the development of the supposed shadow, falling even now in their place of origin.

And so it would come to be that the carefully placed beliefs of mankind would shape their reality and foster them into believing this illusion.

The selected essences, held safe within the Star Gourd, left the Star System 9th from the Great Nebula in the clock of the well-intended plan.

In the document of their origin they were secure, focused and well placed.

From this oracle they pin pointed their combined holographic image into the ethers of the world to be called Earth beginning with the 1st breath of life on the planet's surface.

It was a forward projection only. It looked wet and felt blue.

They arrived and set to their task in what would come to be called the Delta of the Somerset Country.

From this place they ventured forth forward and traveled the length and breadth of the world of Earth, creating, establishing and preordering the illusions as they traveled in their work.

Now understand the one, the holder of the flask, the tiny Star Woman, as well started her work in the travels as she prepared to “power” the Path Way for those she carried.

As she stood on the mound of formed earth, later to be called “the Tor”, she tilted the tiny Star Gourd flask toward the earthen place then skyward before pouring forth the lifeblood of the matrix of Divinity.

For in the investment of a new cosmology it is a truth that all aspects of the created elements must be given honor.

The things of Earth begin to take form in the hearts and minds of the holographic patterns stretched forth from the 601.

And they in their truest form remained in the silent sanctuary in the far away place of the Star Mother’s universe.

And in this way the beginning breath of life sent forth from Divinity unto the matrix board of Earth began.

Beliefs, myths, legends, religions, and dogma
all critical to the newly created Star called Earth began to mold and take shape within their illusion of moral values.

In time, in dear time the work would be fulfilled.

As it was in their (the 601’s) place of birth there was no time, no space, no illusion.

However, the creation of these were needed for the evolution of the “once and future kings” of Earth.

Now it bears saying here that all the Kindred Spirits on this journey of the 601 traveled for the same reason, the salvation of their kind.

In the tiny Star Gourd flask, the 600 Being’s essential elemental awareness remained linked to the far away sanctuary with the holder of the flask being the 601st.

Together they forged across the newly created time and space to bring together the possibility of salvation.

Now this journey was by what would in Earth accounts, be called millions of years long, but to them they were void of time and space and a 1,000 years or a millennium, only a blink of the eye in the created fleur- de-lis (lie).

As the mists moved across the plains and oceans of this new tundra the holographic essences started the evolution of lies that would bring into being the latter day humans.

The original essence of life that formed the 1st breath of the Beings of Life in the race of the “once and future kings” had started to unfold.

Now to the declaration of the systems of belief that would be allowed to track across the planet of the once born.

In the quatrains of the evening shade came the fractals and prisms of this created portal.
A portal to recover all that needed purpose.

And in the way things were to come would be the visual storehouse of created dreams.

Dreams that would bring the developing ethics and behavior which would drive the evolution of the humankind into being.

Thus it was and would be. The combined mind holographically focused on this new planet beginning to drive the birth of a race.

The out come of this birthing was yet to be determined.

It was the heart felt desire of the 9th planet and its Beings of Awareness that this unfolding be the clever enlightenment of the "Followers of Hope."

For now it was time indeed to provide the needed assurance to the containers of the Bringers of Awareness
that the Elder Gods had indeed blessed this endeavor.

During the eras that lingered in the hearts and minds of the Bringers of Awareness this was the hope: the hope of redeeming the Brighter Awareness of Being; to bid the future be as the past had always been. Clear, clean and bright; free of shadow.

The Elder Gods were the true visionaries of the understanding and in this knowledge they were sure to develop the failsafe of return.

It was to be their only recourse.

Since time began the efforts of this salvation were undertaken to bring forward the path, which would change and secure the passage of knowledge.

The rhythms and harmony of the ebb and flow of Divinity were there, imprinted on the verses of revival for the benefit of the resonance of place.

And in the recesses of the minds of the lesser gods they too wished to add to the stylized lines of life and ever after; in as much as they wished to poise its destruction.

And so the 601 came from a stylized perfection, in a union of thought to create “the over bridge of freedom”; the true unabridged travel, to ensure the failure of those now existent on their realms who carried the shadow.

This shadow was the unabridged form of philosophical questioning; doubt.

And Divinity knew the seed of doubt would become the fulcrum entropy of understanding.

For as they had perceived it would be, this shadow of dark matter, held in the thoughts of the lesser gods, was looming and sought to envelope universes and the galaxies they contained.

It was the plan of the wiser Divinity to diversify the efforts of those lesser gods aimed at the destruction of understanding, via the procreated life ever lasting.

As a point of knowing, “the Followers of Hope” are the remaining remnants of the original 601 beings sent to bring the plan into fulfillment.

The Star Gourd flask is the Hourglass of Time.

The un-carved cubic---the pattern of life was the work of the council of “the Followers of Hope” from the realms of the Kings of Light.

It was this imposed luminous organic history that created the venue for the development of the false history to take hold and immerse the humankind in delusion.

This is the enfolded Order of the Genesis.

And within it the “over bridge of freedom” was hidden, separate and apart.

It is a truth that the Star embodiment of the 601 stayed behind all in one location on the 9th Star from the Great Nebula.

The name of this Star remains hidden and will not be heard until due time when a single tone will send to call forth the changing of the tide so that it activates the Path Way.

The Star embodiment of the 601 is held within a sanctuary, a sanctuary of solitude; Sanctus Santos, from where they could place their Awakened Being's form in a state of stasis.

Here to remain until their work as a combined thought form was finished.

It was this well designed stratagem that enabled the design to move as a holographic thought pattern across the membrane of created time and space to establish the work of “the Followers of Hope.”

Within the designed framework of the historic relic was carried the grid patterns, which would provide the 601 the necessary portals of creation.

And now as they reflected on their journey they arrived and yet they remained.

For it was the way it was to be.

It was in fact the only way to achieve the necessary placement of the work in their care.

Stasis on one, understanding and focused combined holographic thought in the created world.

It would take the ultimate in framed thought from each of those 601 working this solution to perfectly project their holographic patterns into its chosen venue.

It would appear on the world of time and space to be millions of years in the making, but in fact it would be all encompassed in the blink of an eye.

In this realm of knowing they moved as if fluid across the divide.

And they held in unison, firm to their Being's awareness in the place of Sanctuary.

Time and Place

The celestial orchestration of these structured sequences are forever changing.

The panels are rapidly forming barriers, and dividing.

The protocols developed from this have traveled millenniums to arrive at this place and time.

It was the transference of pure mind; pure energy.

The “Scroll of Time” has now unfolded and flows across the profound as easily as it does across the mundane.

All remains the same, yet every thing changes.

Some are just more profound insights than others.

It is a truth that time only exists when you are looking forward.

That is the thing about created reality; time dedicates that only linear views are allowed.

In fact, Earth’s history was “safely” created and man placed to drive the human to a point of this nurtured “hot house” grown belief.

Humans assume their past and look towards a future shared by a history constructed of lies.

Herein was the perfection Divinity knew would occur.

So a failsafe was constructed.

A seed of reconstruction called “hope” and it was for a millennium the focus of “the Followers of Hope.”

It was this focus that had constructed, nurtured, protected and now recovered the key about to be activated by the *Kings of Light, the given protectors of Divinity.

**It is to be noted that within the structure of the Realms of Divinity, the quintessential embodiment of Sound, stands next to the Divine, separate and apart from the Light, which remains outside, until and unless there is the perfection of Unity allowed within the combined thought that does equate to the state of Divine Knowledge.*

It was a predestined plan, precise and clear in purpose and the secret hidden deeper than Divinity itself.

Send a group to bring the new planet on line.

Send with them the direction to establish the light center, acquire what was needed, and then fast forward to the “pretended place” so all the focus of the lesser gods would come to believe it the only one necessary to defile.

The need for a “redeemer” was counted on from the beginning, the knowledge it would take (a) human form and possibly be portrayed less than truthful was planned.

It was a necessity on the part of the Greater Gods to provide a stage for humanity to play at the dramas of the stylized lies.

This play was necessary before determining the arrival time for the awakening of the “truth of destiny” to be re-kindled.

Now all the while mankind moved along the lies of created history, the lone essence nurturing the key- the Sound of true wisdom sat in her place watching.

And she watched with careful intent as the drama unfolded on the planet called Earth.

She could see their folly and she trusted that the Greater Gods had a plan to recover the truth.

For she knew without the recovery, the lies of the once born of humanity would never be allowed to move past their confinement.

She looked on the troubled world and she understood they had, since shortly after the Star Children arrived, lived their lives in utter illusion.

Vainly recycling and rebirthing and struggling, within their own human minds to stretch any from the lies created for them.

A dogma of man made religions, designed to entrap and capture the weary foot soldiers of humanity, forcing them to repeat the cycle again and again.

Thus the foot soldiers looked to a false belief, based in a beginning that held no truth.

She knew the time was approaching for the story to be told and she realized that she as the story, was the holder, the container of the grain of hope seeded from Divinity, (at the birth of time) to recall those true descendants of the Star Gourd flask.

They had in faith traversed the world spreading awareness, all the while knowing in trust that one day they would be recalled and they could in their Reflective Light travel back home to the Mother Star.

The Star Woman prepared to depart her distant plane, as she knew her place on Earth was being prepared.

It would be the place she would in time sound the first of the tones needed to raise the carrier of truth and provide for the 1st time a resonant tone capable of awakening the sleeping human descendants of the 601.

It would provide access to the understanding for them to discover the Path Way hidden for so long now.

She smiled as she began her journey.

Her memories still lingered in her heart of hearts.....

Chapter Three

The Mary, Maralina, Mariham, Magalia

Memories

In a small village in the Middle East a young girl sat restlessly listening to her teacher.

She was one of 12 girls being taught the Ways of Knowledge by their teacher.

It was the school of Mary.

She knew the task of this teacher was two fold, one being to find the one girl among the 12 strong enough to endure the tasks ahead.

She wondered if she would be the one, but she also dreaded knowing that she might be.

They had been sealed away for many years in the Temple in the Circle of Wisdom within the true Jerusalem.

They had been hidden within the Temple learning and aligning themselves with the forces of Divinity.

This cosmic truth surrounded the hidden Temple with Light and Sound and therefore understanding.

For more than 6 months now they had been back in what she knew to be the “illusion.”

The place that the humankind would be led to believe was the birthplace of the one they would come to call, the Christ.

She understood the reasons her true ancestors had made it this way.

They were told to provide a false road from which they could watch as the foreseen coming deceit would fall, rise and eventually fall again into chaos.

She knew that would be long, long after they finished the given task.

She often tried to look past their wisdom to see the end and the new beginning, but she could not completely see it.

Now today the teacher had told them they would know who had been chosen to bear this task.

It was another carefully crafted and deeply hidden venue.

She realized long before he spoke it would be her.

The Teacher

The 12 girls had been in his care since before they were born. He had been their constant companion as a teacher.

He watched every detail of their learning and saw to their guidance in all things relating to the understanding of the birthright.

For that birthright was their true identity and their mission.

It would fall to him to recognize the chosen one to bear the full fulcrum of the work before them.

He then must see to the needs of the other students of Mary as they continued to support and protect the chosen one.

She was always the one, chosen before time began to bring this task to bear.

She was the cubical of the cube.

She was the one always holding the Forces of Awareness in the understanding of her Being.

The teacher was clearly secure in knowing it was this Mary that had always held the mantel of the chosen one, the supposed mother of the Christ child.

This work would set the final stage for the humanity to play out the drama of the history stylized for them by the lesser gods in their bid to capture immortality.

As it was, humanity was the laboratory for immortality.

The beginning of a test run linking physical life to a cross over of awareness back to origin.

This cross over was to be found within the parameters of the point-to-point light travel.

Light to Sound, Sound to Divine Thought, and Divine Thought to Divinity.

For only in this existed the sustained pulse and the infused thought patterns necessary to complete the crossing for “the once and future kings.”

The “once and future kings” applies to the evolving remnants of the 601 Beings of Awareness, encrusted in human form.

And the crossing is the departure as they travel the point to point vectors and come again to reign in the worlds of the *Greater Gods of Divinity.

**It was the Greater God's well laid plan to capture forever the intrusive and deceitful craft of the lesser gods as they plotted to bring the shadow onto the higher worlds of Awareness.*

Easa speaks

Now as beings go, this was not the first time I had come to Earth, but it was the first time I came as a complete thought form without fracture from the energy of the center of the Divine Nature.

Having said this, now understand what the purpose was in this time frame.

It was to penetrate the inner substance of the Earth with the memory of Pure Awareness and therefore call forth the force of the Nature of the Divine.

Calling into being this Awareness took time and preparation.

Those of our descendants set to work on this at their first arrival on Earth.

We had been fore warned of a group of dissentients whose intent it was to perpetrate a hoax and use the life force of this place for their own agenda.

They were lower level gods referred to as lesser gods whose plot it was to place their selves on the throne of Divinity by deceit in the form of shadow.

The original plan of the Greater Gods was to provide the descendants of the original essences a reconnection to the truth of Divinity.

And as well, in the same breath, offer a compromise track that those attracted to or deceived by the lesser gods could follow.

This 2nd track would have time enough to play out within the created drama called life, until such time as those whose task it was to re-establish the link to sanctuary and recall home the 601 when they had completed their work.

In due time the lie would be called to task and only those with eyes to see and ears to hear would understand the deceit.

Then and only then would the awareness of the Pure Light return.

I arrived on Earth in the lower terrain of what would come to be known as England in the year of Leo and my light had traveled 120 years in Earth time to reach the pre-set point of arrival.

The plan for establishing a place to receive my Being's form had long been in the crystalline structure of the morning dew and in the cubic cube of Divine Nature.

The place of my arrival had long been erected and thus the Awareness of Divinity stepped forward.

This awareness moved to the Christ Consciousness of Divine Awareness in two beings, one male and one female, or rather one of Light and one of Sound.

Within this structure was the perfect path for retrieval.

Without the combined focus of Sound and the Pure Light without shadow there can be no Divine Awareness.

So now let me speak about how I came amongst the humankind.

I came into being as created form.

Pure Light rose and within the fluorescent shaped rod I traversed across the barrier of procreated space and time.

I arrived on the 5th of June in the predetermined place in the rock circle in the Somerset Country of the Isles.

I arrived as Pure Thought.

Pure thought can only travel along the rods of Pure Light.

I came as a holographic thought pattern and I was guided via the Resonate Sound vessel, who had crossed over and received understandings in the time before.

She was a Mary. Later she would come to be called, the Mary.

She was a devotee of the higher learning of the enlightened ones of the Order of Divinity.

She was in fact and truth the one tiny basket, the one holding the smallest of flasks, the Star Gourd.

It would be said of her later that she had given birth to the Son of God.

That was only the veiled illusion created to enable the followers of the lesser gods to establish a religion and to be consumed by it.

The truth was much simpler.

This Mary had been trained since a young girl in this physical life, to understand the ways of the divination of the teachings of Divine Nature.

She had attained the understanding to step into her Sound Spirit fully, and become one with the Radiant Light of the other side.

It was this understanding that enabled her to become a marker so that I would arrive truly to find her waiting.

We were untied in a traverse of my Light as it traveled forward to meet the appropriate timing of arrival.

I arrived as a Pure Light wave attuned to her vibrational acceptance and I arrived as I departed in the physical form of a man.

I was never given the identity of a child. I came as a man among men, fully awake and fully aware.

This was my 3rd time among the men of the Earth.

And this time the plan was flawless.

This Mary never married, never had children and was devoted to her teachings and to my Being, the Radiant Light, called Easa, who would later be referred to as a Joseph.

I was Radiant Light in thought form; held intact by the Reflective Sound of the one called the Mary.

Mary's journey

When the Mary came back from her time on the other side of Spirit her first thoughts were of the unbound freedom she had remembered and experienced.

She focused on her memories of the Radiant Light Being and their shared knowledge and understanding.

As she walked back across the veil, she looked into the eyes of her teacher.

As always he was the same, yet now she knew in clarity his hidden work.

Without a word she knew he understood clearly what she now held deep in her heart.

She also recognized that he knew as well her heart had found his secret so carefully hidden.

She also acknowledged he would be her constant companion in this marvel that awaited her, but now she would look beyond his countenance to his inner heart before she trusted his guidance.

His work covered, as she now knew, the veil and the shadow.

She steeled herself as they left the garden together and prepared for the long voyage to the appointed place.

The peace in her heart still lingered like a song and held the perfect balance of harmony.

It was the harmony of having blended her Sound with the Pure Light of the Nature of the Divine.

The destined time had arrived, the betrayal was organized and the departure secured.

And now a tiny new pattern exposed itself.

The Light Being, known as the teacher, had exhibited a flux in his vibratory pattern to express a needed visual for those who were the foot soldiers of the lesser gods.

It gave them, those of a later time, which might be of the descendents of the 601, pause to reconsider.

From this moment Easa and the Mary began their journey back to the place later to be called England.

They traveled once again via the way of Egypt and France.

They were among the families in those places.

They awaited the teacher, known as the other Joseph.

He had departed three days after them carrying another one of his students, the Magdalena, to France.

The Magdalena remained there and he then turned on to meet the Mary and Easa in Egypt.

They later traveled with him hence and returned to France where they tarried with the Magdalena for a time.

In due time they all carried on to England, the land of the renewal.

In fact it was the land of the once and forever true Jerusalem.

In her time the Magdalena was secreted away again unto France and there she remained.

After their work was completed the Mary and Easa ascended to the Realm of Awareness.

They departed from the place of the arrival, in England, the Holy Isle, and that was 13 months after the time in the garden.

The Magdalena remained in France with her child;
a daughter of the House of the Crescent Moon.

It would be the descendants of this child who one day would carry the truth of the grail away from the secretive places into the places of discovery.

It would mark the assured approach of the changing of the tides.

Having given this part of history from the story book of the Star Woman's journal, the knowledge of the times in-between can now come to light.

As in times past, the Woman of the Stars was the carrier, the basket that came forth from Divinity to hold failsafe the doorways of the Library of Knowledge and the Path Way to Divine Awareness.

From the time of the arrival of the Radiant Light much was intended to be illusion.

This illusion would feed the "created lie" dealt like a well-placed dichotomy to insure the failure of the lesser gods.

Much is said in the world of Earth about the Grail.

Much more is left unsaid regarding this supposed relic.

It remains a mystery to those not destined to hear its song nor see its light, but to those whose eyes see clearly and ears are attuned they alone know its secret.

The grail is the bloodline left by the 601 as they crossed the earthen plane.

These descendents are the forebearers of the Truth hidden for such a long time.

This is the time it can now begin to come to discovery.

It was a well-designed venue and its conception began in the deeper, wider universe of the Star Mother.

Clearly designed to capture the deceit of the lesser gods, the well-laid trap lay like a fragrance across the landscape of the created planet Earth.

Now during the time the Mary traveled in the Stars
she was remembering the way of the plan.

She conceived that she and Easa would traverse the Earth plane and leave behind markers and clues to the way of the Beings of Awareness.

As it was the humankind was easily fooled into following a false and encumbering lie.
In the way of this, the soldiers of the lesser gods created a myth about Easa and the Mary.

The power of the knowledge carried by the Mary and Easa was far greater than the Earth bound soldiers could comprehend.

They designed a story and as that story grew so did the platform of the lies that supported its structure.

From the actual truth of the arrival they shaped a falsehood in hopes of taking away its purpose.

First make it a phenomenon.

That adds strangeness to the mix.

And it is a truth that an unexplained event does not over time sit well within the reasoning human mind.

Then carry it on with bits of information that prey on the imagination of the human mind.

In time the imagination will resort to reason and in this event there would be the trap.

Reasoning minds of lesser beings always create a need to be accepted, good vs. evil, a false concept and in this drama the guilt ridden, fear based religious dogmas flourished.

The stories were planted with a dark force.

The centuries that followed saw, wars, famine, torture, killings and domination.

The lives of the foot soldiers and “the Followers of Hope” continued to be repeated over and over again.

Chapter Four

The Star Woman's Journal

The games raptured the lesser gods and as they focused on the drama they were consumed in its play and they lost all interest in the events in the wider understandings.

Thus the trap was sprung and in due time the lesser gods would be exposed and defeated.

And the foot soldiers of time became mired in the dogma of the guilt based fear driven milieu.

Recorded Tapestries From the Journal

The timing of the tone set to call home the Children of the Star Lit Lantern, those descendants of the 601, was seen to be in the ethers on Earth, for the first time December 21st, 2000.

The details here shared are from the Journal of the Star Woman shared now for the first time in the form of this story.

The configurations necessary for the sounding of this tone are few, but they are precise and they have begun to align.

So for those reading this story whose hearts are touched and carved into remembrance you have the opportunity to touch that, which has here to forth been out of your reach.

The first requirement is to stretch your mind and allow the veil to drop even just enough to question the well placed dogma of the lie and then, only then search, search for the truth that speaks to your individual heart.

To continue the story:

The Beings of the 601 original essences came over time to be the fundamental nature of the newly formed planet Earth.

They set the timing, the phases and imbued the very elements with the memory of Divinity.

Moving across the ether as a fine mist they wove the threads of creation, placing the strands and stains of memory in place from each of their sections of knowledge.

They came to Earth as a whole, but entirely separate unit.

Each unit existed on multi levels.

Each one holding stylized plasma, somewhat like a liquid surface, that provided the laboratory for the doubling to begin.

This plasma enfolded and created the nuclei necessary for the strands of DNA to begin, both those active and those that would lie dormant until called forth.

With these gifts from the Creator the 601 moved across the planet like a breath of air, composing, filling and nourishing the slow becoming of living matter.

Over the following eons life began to emerge.

The energy of the 601 came together and flowered like concentrated awareness.

This awareness was planted like a super garden in certain sites across and beneath the Earth's surface.

As it was, this design carried the blueprint for all of the landscape of the planet Earth.

In the areas where the knowledge would later come to life and in the sacred places set to receive the coming consciousness, there was special care taken to ensure that the focused energy needed to create and open the portals was ready and waiting.

Ready at a moments notice to uncurl and embrace the arrival of the Beings of Awareness as they came and went, preparing the consciousness of those walking the path.

These places were called the points on the net.

They are many times referred to as the grid points; the energy lines or ley lines that circle the Earth.

These concentrations of energy points resulted from the places the energy of the essential essences lingered.

These locations were carefully selected for their importance both in the beginning and their significance for the later times as well.

It was a very well engineered plan, put in place after eons of preparation.

Thus was the importance of the Earth's task to the wider universes.

The first Earth based home of the 601 was the arid regions of the delta area where the water settled in the land that would come to later be called Egypt.

The markers of the work are still there, waiting to be awakened soon.

In this place, constant traces of memory and arrival information was well-placed deep in the elements surrounding this part of the globe.

The work carried on there for a long time by Earth standards.

Remember this Awareness has an understanding of function much different than the humans have been designed to enforce or realize.

The 601 are essentially a thought form that exists.

And as such they load, assimilate, and execute data for millions of years before being ready to begin the work task.

There was as well much time spent in the area of the great sacred isle once called the Wessex and on towards the placement and planning of what would come to be called the Temple of the Stars and the civilization called Atlantis.

The Star Woman was not assimilated into the human race, even for the slightest time until much later.

She remained in her place watching.

She held the responsibility of remembering the Path Way home.

This information had to be imprinted into her consciousness before she was allowed or required to take human form and take on the shell of humankind.

When called she went first into the land of the humankind in the time called A.D.

As she went she was carried into the form she needed and waited for the arrival of the Radiant Light Being.

Here to fore it had fallen to her to remind and call back those essences who had become engulfed in the humanness and who had drifted away from the memory.

She was set to gently call them home and offer to them a time of renewal.

The area of the Earth that came to be called England really began as did much of the Earth's surface, a totally different land mass.

This place provided a central base which served the work of the creation and so it remained for most of the time spent in creating the paths on this planet.

It was to this place the essences returned, time and again to re-link with the original work task.

It was designed to be a portal from which to come and go and the Beings moved there as a fine mist that lingered across the landscape.

In was here that the Star Woman took her first breath in human form.

And it was here that she and the one to be called Easa arrived and came and went from this land to the universes in the wider understandins, even unto the land of Awareness of the Divine.

It is this land whose task would hold the memory to be the luminary for the other towers remaining near the end.

This land was and remains yet fertile in the things of Spirit.

It holds the lines leading to the discovery of the last portal, opening now for the awareness of those traveling home to the Stars.

And in due time this isle will come to vanish from the eyes of the humans.

In the beginning there were only the essences and their guides working to develop the Earth as they had been given the Directive from Divinity.

The work was seen to and over looked by the guiding Angelic Beings as they came from the Divine.

They remained in constant contact with the original essences in their work.

Over time, as the eons wore away it was allowed that the work be done without constant over seeing.

However, the work was never without the direction of the Divine Plan, working to accomplish the task of the function of the place called Earth and the race of beings that came to be called the humankind.

In the beginning of the task the 601 worked as one unified thought form.

So complete was the connection that what one began another could finish.

Each had their task and their work.

They were the teachers from the sacred places of the old ones who carried the knowledge of the secrets of time.

For in truth the knowledge came from the Star
Mother and her direct link to the Divine.

And the knowledge was passed as such via the essences who gave of their Being to the place called Earth.

The locks and keys to the portals have been hidden for eons, waiting for the time to come forth and be re-opened.

The opening ensures that the Children of the Mother Star can return home and in doing so seal the promise made to the children of the Earth by the Creator Gods.

Securing this return requires many things, but foremost in this quest are necessary; purity of heart, clarity of vision, and the integrity of purpose to see the way of the return.

It is about returning to the movement via celestial music, a magical resonance of harmony.

It is found in the music of the spheres, the visit of the Nature of Divinity to the source of all life, the Divine in all things.

It requires bringing forth the traditions of the ancient science, calling the sacred institutions of the past to be awakened and aligned with the energy assigned to the Earth.

It is a chorus for reconciliation and revitalization.

It calls for a return of the wisdom, found within the tenets of mystical science.

A retrieval of the amalgamation of the detached but co-terminus understanding, which has since before time was created, served as one, unified wisdom.

It is within this teaching that the lie so embedded within the hearts of the humans can be replaced with the knowledge of the truth of Being and the ones with eyes to see and ears to hear can return to the knowledge left for them.

The 21st of December 2000 began the celebration of the return.

The reclamation of the elements that bring rebirth to those destined to herald the tone key of awakening.

Stand advised and do not let it be forgotten that the ancient native traditions carry hidden within their teachings, aspects of the original wisdom.

These traditions carry the links to the original teachings of the ole ones.

These were the original teachings that over time became shadowed by the intended lie.

They were shadowed and hidden to protect the true church behind the false religions.

These truths were not made by human hands, but rather were eternal in the heavens.

They were the natural energies that blended to form terrestrial and cosmic communication.

This blending formed a strength that is miraculously in tune with the rhythms and energy flows that are established through out all Nature.

It is a composition of Divinity that links the stones of Earth to the Stars, and provides for the descendants of the Mother Star and the cosmos a reunion.

This unifying power forms the holistically geomagnetic manna, the living manna of the Divine, the very essences of “the Followers of Hope.”

In human form it is the blood and bones of life, and as such remains held within the created and rulified illusion of the lies.

The Basket of Peace is the cosmic force used to repair the illusion. It is already complete and waiting to be activated.

It is that which came and made Earth a Holy place with Divine purpose.

It was never, then or now, an abstract quality associated with a human condition called “faith.”

It is an ancient and exact science.

A natural science, not created by human need,
but gifted from the heart of Divinity.

It was the work of the holographic unified thought form of the 601 essential essences sent to do the work on the bequest of Divinity.

The science hidden deep is ready to be revitalized and the geomagnetic celestial communion again realized.

This has almost been forgotten and abandoned in the annals of time by a people who race to their finish without thought of recovery or return.

The humankind has all but lost their connection to the subtle life forces that gave them life.

In the way of the foot soldiers of the lesser gods they look only to the dramatic and the obvious for their teachings.

They are continually being led to the place of no return.

In the greater way, it is a truth that imprinted on the cosmic disorder is the grid of the rhythms and harmonies, which organize all aspects of life on Earth.

This blueprint allowed a reverberation to be formed and this made possible the designed cosmic flow of knowledge.

Chapter Five

The Journal Part 2

This Journal now turns to speak about the lore and myth regarding the astrology of the ole mapmakers.

These were the links set out to link the varied forms of life throughout the wider universes.

The “star maps” were designed as the eternal links to the rediscovery of the world of the Star Mother.

The maps insured that in due time when the first of the 601 returned via the Library of Knowledge to the world of Aragon they would know the way.

From these maps came great stories of creation that have helped to shape the values and mores of those who look to the Stars for their guidance.

It was always intended that the wisdom of the Stars should blend with the science of memory transference.

This memory transference held within the holographic thought patterns, worked to bind the kinesis into “super-imposed reality.”

The use of human based emotions was pulsed into this work.

The task was an undertaking of great importance, for in this weave must also lie hidden the strand of memory of the original language.

This original language held the structure of the numerical coding of tones.

The visual colors hold the values hidden deep within the structure of the art of coherent manifestation.

This can be found only in the realms of wave distortion.

The wavelength was designed to be the equivalency constant between sound and light.

It acts as a resonant frequency, which then serves as a transducer focusing Light into the musical harmony of Sound.

The value of life was established surrounding this gifting.

The crafted DNA serves as a living transducer between the Sound and the Light.

It serves as a type of photonic bridge.

All communications were based on this bringing forth.

It will remain so until the tone surfaces once again and is brought to memory within the hearts of those who are aware of the tonal key.

This tonal key will activate the glial cells forming a quantum electronic based Light to Sound computer syncytium.

It will access above the low-level base line frequencies and activate levels in the higher frequencies necessary to achieve the crossing.

It will then provide the direct communication link between Sound and Light necessary to achieve Divine Thought.

The order of these functions, can be seen in the birthing charts of the descendants as in this was found the beginning of the structure of the calling forth for the cycles of the DNA.

Hidden within this structure are the later tones and the numbers of the blending.

It is this blending of the tones and the numbers that becomes the awakening of the old universal science.

It is in this and only within this hidden Path Way that the understanding of the times and the work can be diversified and placed in the order of the needed creation.

Vibration via distant number (Sound), into color (Light), into manifestation, into sight, so was the order of creation.

Under this mantel as well were the sacred elements of the guarded treasures destined to be left as the markers for “the Followers of Hope.”

Left for these latter day pathfinders, and hidden among the trove of knowledge were the markers and the essences of place; reminders of the wider understanding and their eventual call home.

The Sounds available within this realm are the Celestial Sounds of Harmony and Light necessary to open the memory of the descendants and gain for them the recall of the gathering.

These patterns are the beginning of the known and knowable kinesis.

As at its beginning the mind encompassed movement entirely and thus contained the entire cosmos.

This is the foundation of “reflected thought.”

Fusion of this nano-movement without form is the critical hidden factor instilled in the latent DNA of the descendants of the Star family.

The tonal key now arriving will bring the call to memory of this transference.

Without this work, none of those here remaining could find the way to the proper sequence for the return.

This one thing was the necessary factor for which all the essences toiled and without it the success of the plan they had labored so tireless for would fail.

Given precedence was the work of the living beings within the kingdom of the plants and the beings which protected them.

There is much that can be said regarding this living connector, but here is not yet the place.

Another time, perhaps...

Chapter Six

The Teachers of Infinity

The dialog of the entrapment was also the stage for the development of the “Tenets of Divinity.”

Hidden within the elements of the design of the Schools of Knowledge and the bards of passion are the numerical values which set and hold the con-curve of Divine Nature.

These values and concept points were well placed in the secret schools set in the places perfectly hidden.

They were brought forward by Easa and the Mary to insure the passage of essential information vital to the recovery of the Children of the Star Lit Lantern.

In this way they were the point-to-point map directional set to express understanding among those whose hearts held the concept of the secret knowledge.

These secret schools and their continued influence became the hidden paths to encourage those searching outside the contrived lie of humanity.

Thus the arms of Divinity became accessible to those of “the Followers of Hope” who could look deeper and who sought to travel forth.

The voyagers set their focus on these schools throughout painted history.

These places imbued “the forever travelers” as well, as it gave them the places to convene and repast as they worked their way across the Earth.

Within the ranges of the known and knowable reside all the hidden connections that enable those who carry the DNA of the 601 to stand forward.

It is this declaration that opens the possibility of finding the doorway that leads past the created lies.

These visual “star bursts” of awareness are embedded deeply in the memory and continue to call them away from the deception.

These were the 1st panels of the promise. They were placed as recovery markers.

Among those who are connected by these residuals are the voyagers of the future and “the forever travelers.”

Now these hidden cultural mores set the parameters for the orchestration of the recovery.

The efforts of Easa and the Mary were vast and they were followed by the over seers.

Within these teachers were the Magi.

The Magi were the eldest of the teachers.

They arrived on the Earth with the first breath of life.

They lived among the original essences sent to organize the elements of Earth.

They served as their guides.

There are 33 of these gifted teachers called Magi currently assigned to the planet Earth and they in turn assign “the forever travelers” to their task.

They arrived in tandem, have served and continue to serve those here placed for millenniums now.

In the times in between the Beings of Awareness they traversed the planet keeping to the work before them.

In the time of the arrival of Easa and the remaining time he and the Mary traveled the world, the Magi sent 3 of their kind to stay with them every step of their journey.

For within the structure of these Beings dwelled the link to Divine Understanding.

This was an important portent of the work.

In every event the Magi have carefully brought forward information in the proper sequences to enlighten the Beings on Earth who carry an awareness of Divinity.

The teachings they bring forward hold the holographic patterns necessary to re-sync the driving force to convert to the mathematics of the natural forces of the Nature of Divinity and within this, the opportunity to look to Divine inspiration.

Now here in this plane there is great need of this understanding.

And the Magi are to be honored as they have and continue to bring forward the necessary links for the recovery.

Within the fine lines of recovery are the molecules of the patterns within the matrix of the fallen world.

This matrix can and needs be the fulcrum of this new ordering.

In as much as the foundation of this plane will depart leaving only the core that was established as the 1st breath of life arrived.

The extensions of the Magi are the Greater Beings sent to assist the “once and future kings.”

The extended arms of the Magi are often referred to as “the forever travelers”, since they are formed Beings of thought that maintain movement at all times.

They remain for short periods of time within a given area and affect the lives and the activities of those present.

Chapter Seven

The Hidden Mathematics

Within the points of enfolded time exists the nullified mathematics of the Divine Mind.

Without the enfolded order of the numerical equations, the time and space continuum is void of the ability to hold form.

The language of Germatria found on the landscape of the planet Earth speaks to this foundation.

If one but follows the numbers of the aspects of the fulcrum of the enfolder order of existence they will find the resonance of the Harmony of the Spheres.

For a time now the ole ways of divination have been forgotten and put aside for the more advance technical aspects of the functioning world of illusion.

It bodes well to return to the time of the mathematician and the way of the point-to-point system of vector transference.

Within this quatrain of learning exists for those with eyes to see and ears to hear the true “star map” necessary to locate the pinpoint places of recovery.

For in these places of recovery lie the gatherings of those of like minds and provides the fulcrum point of the educated mind held sacred with in the knowledge points of Divinity.

Search out the ole math and find for yourself the decimals of truth.

These hidden aspects of the matrix of creation were brought to the Earth in the form of holographic distant math.

The voyagers spanned across created time and space and came to rest within the pin point accuracy of the Divine and in doing so created the projection that is the Earth and its life forms.

The life forms we are speaking of are the descendents of the 601.

The other beings are the foot soldiers of the lesser gods.

Within the rules of fragmentary fractals are held the equations of Sound and Light and for that matter the combined forces of travel.

The equation of life is a Divine factor of cosmic order inherent within the fabric of the stylized lines of the cubic of creation.

Within the rudimentary protocols are the keys to the kingdom of the known universes.

In reference to the numerical values of the essential elements of the value of life on Earth; these patterns lay failsafe hidden in the venues of past times.

The elemental fulcrum of fortified virtue is worthless.

It is a symbol of the lesser gods as they nullify the transit beings into a falsehood.

In the delta was left the numeric circle adapted into a square, which sits within a triangle.

It represents the math which matches the towers yet to be called on.

The sound box within this stylized structure will soon resonate.

This sounding will open the consciousness of the descendents and they will begin to flourish and will be seen to cross the barriers to ports of departure.

This is the hidden cosmology.

The teachings of which cover every created element.

It is both audible and visual.

It is the keystone to the recovery of the lost truth.

And it is the key that unlocks for those so destined, the Library of Knowledge.

This admittance leads to the access of knowledge greater than has ever been possible for humankind to attain before now.

The path is found in the times past from where the grail has shifted and it now comes to the forefront of the patterns of the knowable.

It is in the Sound that soon comes to the memory of "the Followers of Hope."

Chapter Eight

The Cosmology of Divinity

In the realms of the Divine there rest the knowledge of all that has ever been.

This knowledge is used to progress awareness onto the plane of Divine Knowing.

This then is the way that comes.

Divinity is a pulse; without beginning and without end.

The only other practicum at the level of the Divine is the wave of Sound.

This is the medium used to disperse all knowledge.

It contains all the recovery and all the necessary platforms of knowledge issued to the wider realms of knowing.

In the visionary aspects of Divine Thought there was a perceived shadow coming to approach entry.

A realm separate and apart from the Divine was created. It was the Light Kingdom sent forth to filter the perceived shadow.

The Theorem of a New Cosmology

The elements of awareness are in union with the Divine via Divine Thought.

This is accomplished when they pass the barrier of Sound, having synced with the vibratory patterns necessary to approach Divinity without being dispersed.

In the way of the coming together this serves as the full disclosure of the intention and the path forward to understanding.

This then is the concept of the new cosmology.

First there was the Pulse now called Divinity and with this there was the Sound of motion (the movement of knowledge).

Then as a way to procreate and discover there was crafted the concept of light.

It is a truth that this light can become Pure Reflected Light when it is in perfect unison with Sound as it then is cleansed to Radiant Light and can pass the realms into Divinity.

The orchestrations of the venues associated with this never have been about man and woman.

The attributes of male and female are completely different and apart from this. However; for reference equate maleness to Light and female to Sound.

The following then is:

The Cosmology of Divinity

The term Divinity refers to a Pulse made up of Sound waves and in the outer quatrain it includes created Light waves.

The Cosmological Order of Divinity

1. Divinity moves along via Sound waves.
2. Sound defines Light.
3. Light begets form and manifestation results.
4. Divinity remains a pulse of unbound energy.

The Academics of Divinity provides there is,
(1) no beginning
(2) and no end.

It is the equation of unbound energy.

An optimum Divinity interacts within a secured purified vacuum.

The atoms of the wave within Divinity co-exist as points of awareness within the unified nucleic.

The realm of Divinity is a constantly moving (Pulse) of Sound wave encounters, which are audible only to the vibrations of the highest tenets of occultation.

Within the oscillations points exists the proximity of created light.

This created light was fashioned to expose that which was non-compatible to Divinity.

The awareness points of Divinity are the particles of the nucleic constitution of forever, in that they are a natural product of the original energy of Divinity.

The creation of Earth, which served as a collector and a point of recalibration, was a function of Divine Thought.

This was accomplished via the primordial elements within an innate relationship existing between the co-terminus functions of the families of The Star Mother.

This exercise was the formation of the prism to be used to disengage the intended fracture of the reflector of the Pulse called Divinity.

Divinity exists entirely as an unbound energy wave, moving continuously and simultaneously in all cosmological orders.

Awareness points are a complete unit; particles of transference, discoverable at the point of the origin of the Pulse called Divinity and are therefore an innate expression of the whole of Divinity.

The holographic patterns of the Divine closest in nature to its elemental mathematical function, in terms of the attributes associated with questing for the truth via awareness and with the innate nurturing capacity of this organism, is that of the intrinsic qualities found with the female consciousness.

It is for this reason that this consciousness is the carrier of the Sound Wave found within Divinity.

The design of the creation of light was to serve as the filter to insure the continuity of the Divinity.

The pivotal point in this stratagem was to use the elemental structure of an innate function, understood to be searching and nurturing (Sound), and the other one of covert properties (Light), the result of which would expose any failure to combine within the nuclei of Divinity set in place to procure forever.

Sound and Light therefore are variable qualities of the action of the movement of the Divine, one exploring and encouraging and one reacting.

Understand that each carries the properties of both understandings, linked within their knowledge base.

Sound resides inside the Realms of Divine Thought and the Light remains in the outer rims of consciousness until a co-terminus union is formed.

The Sound wave expresses the movement of and polices entry into the Divine.

The nature of the compatibility of the interaction of the molecules of Sound and Light is the acquiescence of movement into continuous thought and therefore into Divine Thought.

The Pulse called Divinity is the organic constant awareness that permeates created thought as it fashions the opportunity to access unbound rectified knowledge.

This extension is sent out via the panels of holographic constructed anomalies structured to infuse knowledge and therefore create the possibility of awareness into form via the ability of created light to manifest into matter.

The organized transference of the rectified tangible creation began and with it, dichotomy of structure, fostered a reasoning mind.

Thus humankind was developed after a milieu of workable, pliable effacement was enforced.

Divine Mind is the stable construction of perfected movement via the Sound of Harmony.

Harmony is the cord that strings together to allow nano movement through a vacuum, leaving in its wake, matter which replaces the void of space.

It is this continuum that was used to create time; a portal of conjured beginnings wound tightly about a theorem of nuclear device.

This was designed to form a practicum of grandiose proportions capable of responding, splitting and co-joining into the transference of congealed protein.

Remember nothing is random in the universe, certainly not in the Higher Realms, where co-terminus awareness and Divine Thought form Divinity.

The created light was encoded with the theorem of possible anomalies of structure, which provided for the encroaching shadow to be imprisoned and therefore expose its crafters to Divinity.

The refraction of the shadowed thought projected onto a laboratory of created thought provided a wave of construction capable of producing a reasoning mind.

The shadow was the aperture that confused or exerted control over the reasoning mind, producing a concept that altered freedom of choice.

This shadow would have evolved, in due course, if left to its devices, to create entropy of the sustained movement of the Pulse called Divinity.

The result of this entropy would have provided dense space capable of being manipulated by a lesser intelligence.

The placement of created light into the organized patterns of crafted being would allow for the trapping and cleansing of the dark matter.

This cleansing then would create the purification of procreated thought patterns within the space time continuum.

The failsafe contingency was the policed closure of the connection to Divinity by Light via Sound.

Sound is a factor of Divinity.

Light is a function of Sound used as it collects, assimilates and prostrates for the eventual greater good of Divinity.

Mathematics is the structure of Sound within the exchange of understanding provided by Divinity.

Therefore the importance placed on understanding.

Faith is a tool of the combined deceit of the hierarchy of the lesser intellects or lesser gods.

Understanding is the nature of the Divine Mind.

Only through understanding can there be a co-terminus link with the levels of Divinity.

Light functions as a methodology to approach this understanding at its beginning stages of comprehension.

The tonal key of the structured mathematical molecules, inherent within Sound waves, is the instrument of Divine Revelation.

The Seals are the liquid accompaniment of Sound.

They hold the octaves of movement via the Spheres of Infused Knowledge.

This Knowledge is held within a continuum of place within the curvature of pure awareness.

It is constant, yet ever changing in its capacity to share and implant knowledge that structures and facilitates understanding.

Binary thought patterns enter when Sound and Light are allowed to co-join to form a prism of enfolded order.

This order then enters a point to point conception of Divinity and therefore takes on the innate structure of Divine Thought.

It ensures failsafe the plan of Divinity and the retrieval of the points of awareness.

Truths of Being

An awareness point is a completed Particle of Divinity.

It has already achieved union with Divinity; however to re-pass unto the realm of Divinity after being dispersed it must/need be reflected before re-entrance in the realms of the Greater Gods is permitted.

This return requires only remembrance.

The Binary thought patterns held within the completed pure blending of Sound and Light become the fusion of understanding, which then approaches the Pulse called Divinity and transfers into Divine Thought.

2 become 3 become 1

The remaining patterns are the factored in components of necessity and as such are non retrievable products of the platform necessary to enact the vignettes required for the greater understanding of awareness.

Chapter Nine

Prisms of Light and the Sound of Forever

Now the time has come for the retrieval of the Prisms of Light.

These prisms are portals of recovery for the descendents of the 601 remaining on Earth.

These Beings have served a tireless task, one of dedication entirely and it is time for them to begin to reunite and return.

Consider for a time, the work of the Greater Gods as they have held in sacred trust the virtues of the work of the recovery.

For millenniums these Beings have pressed onward in the guise of Angelic messengers destined to test the fortitude and recall of those here on Earth awaiting the awakening.

These Beings are, as they have been thorough out time, messengers of awareness within the tonal sound of the awakened Grace.

It never was male or female.

That was a true part of the ruse.

The expression of male energy is seen to be the lantern of created light allowed, to be encrusted with the shadow.

The shadow designed of doubt and anger based in fear.

Fear includes the nuance of the need to battle for that which was perceived to be lost.

It is the opposite of the pure light of love.

The expression of the qualities referred to as the female energy was forever defined as Sound.

The nature of whose clear tone removes the shadow and provides a pristine prism for the tonal key.

It has never been about who is a woman and who is a man.

It is rather about who carries the energy of the shadowed light or the energy of the Sound.

It was an act of clear intent on the created world, by the lesser gods, to attempt to render the virtue of the qualities of woman suspect.

For they knew if the truth was known regarding the Grail, the lies would be exposed to a Radiant Light greater than the shadows.

The disparagement was conceived of and driven on acts of pillage and murder, and in the doing, the ravage brought some lines to near end.

This aggression was set against the life force of all Sound energy that did not conform to the rules of the dogma.

It was aimed at the destruction of the hidden tonal sound of Pure Radiant Light.

It was this ravage that so scarred the terrestrial scheme above and the terra firma on the Earth.

The reversal of which has now arrived to begin the revelation.

The Original Shadow

This constructed strategy was the work of the shadow of the lesser gods.

The shadow began in a well placed contaminated vessel, chosen carefully for this task.

One who also was used as an instrument of Awareness in times before.

For in truth he was prudently chosen and the seed of the shadow carefully hidden within his heart so that he might help string the lies into a story.

He has walked the Earth without end carrying the trace of that shadow so well placed by the lesser gods.

In the higher order, his task was granted and allowed by the Overlords of Light to proceed with the contrived deceit.

They were covertly directing the deception from the beginning.

This was a well placed offering from the stratagem of the Divine Mind.

It was this vessel's task.

It was his work.

In due time the shadow he carried was to be healed.

It was to be forged forever in the past never to be seen to influence understanding again.

It was the dual role of this concealed mediator to begin the trap that would bring the deceit full circle.

Then it would fall to him to stand and see that the entrapped shadow was forever ended.

Only in this way could the template of forever be retrieved and brought to the forefront of knowing so that the possibility of the return could be offered to "the Followers of Hope."

In the time of Easa and the Mary, he was the other Joseph, the teacher; the one used to infiltrate the bringers of the lie.

His accounts were the hearsay version of what later became the gospels of the Christian world.

He was used to under write the epistles of the kingdom of the lesser gods.

And by virtue of his works, the lesser gods were tricked into the trap.

He carried a double sword.

With one he wove the lie and with the other he protected the one remaining link to Easa and the Mary.

The true child of Immaculate Conception.

The daughter of the Magdalena.

This Joseph did hide in his deepest heart her role and did draw the attention to another version, that of the Mary as mother and Easa as the child.

Perhaps he did this to give a niche in the armor of the lie.

2,000 years have seen the story take form and become the foundation of the lives of the tricked and deceived.

In the “time” before the revival, when the words of an old fable, became the “supposed truths” of what would come to be a “testament.”

And the dogma from this has gone on to be the root of the development of countries, wars are constantly waged on its behalf and charlatans of every nation have flourished on its merit.

The poor, the weak and the naive have suffered greatly at its rules.

But what became of the true lineage of the promised one?

Chapter Ten

Daughter of Sound and Light, A Divine Thought

During the time prior to the ascension of The Radiant Light and the Mary, the Magdalena was gifted a Being of Awareness.

She was a daughter, born of the fusion of Sound and Light.

She was born as a child of the Earth.

She was conceived truly without gestation.

The child was given as a sign of the promise to the descendants of the 601: The Children of the Star Lit Lantern.

The voice of the child was truly gifted from the harmony of Light and Sound.

She was born in France, she lived in France and she died in France, but not before she traveled and taught and left her mark on the terrain that was and is humanity.

Her presence inspired the Madonna and is still seen, even in the vestibule of the dogma of the male ruled offices of organized religion.

Her voice is still hidden in stories of miracles the world over.

Her true nature returned the thoughts of those who would come to watch and listen (hear and see) to the time of Natural Philosophy and the elements of the Divine in all things.

She was in earnest a gift to the world and a reminder of the things yet to come.

Easa and the Mary remained for a while and traversed the distance to hold safe the girl and her mother.

They traveled and taught in the Temples established for the preservation of the hidden knowledge in Egypt, both in Alexandria and along the Nile.

In foreign lands they inspired the hidden knowledge within the indigenous people of the land.

Their teachings were to insure the remembrance of the truth of the Nature of Divinity.

These teachings left resonate sound in places yet to be unearthed.

This did promise the revival of the traits necessary, when the turning of the tide calls forth the clock of time to open the portal for their return.

The Radiant Light Easa and the Reflected Light created by the Sound carried within the Mary, traversed the Earth together.

And before they transcended, they left signs and markers along the way to rekindle the memory of the descendants.

Their travels parallel the work of the child who came behind them.

The Mary has now returned to begin the callings.

Within the tenets of the true cosmology she awaits
the arrival once again of the Radiant Light.

This time framed by understanding, there will be no illusion, only clarity of purpose.

For now the Children of the Stars are in the final times before the departure.

They are beginning their shift into awakening the vibrational change in the DNA gifted them by the bloodline of their Star ancestors.

This is the needed link.

They have the eyes to see, and the ears to hear the higher vibration necessary to align to the Mary energy here now.

She has returned to rectify the shadow and clarify the prism of time so that those whose hearts hear and eyes see can begin to lift the veil of the lie and follow their true knowing home.

Her story is now ready to be told.

Her place of recall is clear and true.

Her time has come and the remnants of the descendants she calls are ready to hear and see.

The path for the clarification and removal of all shadow has begun.

She asks only this: Begin to question.

Begin to resolve to know what your inner selves recognize as truth.

Realize that without this inner revelation, there will be no Path Way for your individual awareness to follow.

Access to The Path Way is an individual understanding.

It is not an act of “faith” driven by a false belief, based in fear.

It is rather an act of understanding, forged in pure awareness.

Chapter Eleven

The Promised Return

And thus is the way it has been for millennium.

The intended lie had created the necessary trickle down steps to foil the plan of the lesser gods and in doing so had given birth to the wider star systems via the so labeled Big Bang.

Within the Pulse named Divinity the process of defining the necessary things of created thought formed and did bring forward the cosmic ordering of time.

Time and the expanded universe of space existed co-terminus in that time emerged from space and formed a spatiotemporal identity.

An electromagnetic wave length set forth and created the instrument of mass.

This structure was the laboratory for the eventual development of humankind.

The creation of this spatiotemporal identity was the necessary component to unfold the stratagem of the Divine Mind.

As the mass started to unfold an explosion of cosmic proportion occurred.

It ordered the remaining events that were designed to follow and life formed.

Before this, the Pulse of Awareness that came to be called Divinity, traversed in a perfectly pure vacuum.

In the terms of non-linear science, this act of creation is in the nature of the cause and effects of quantum physics.

The inherent nature of unbound thought as it relates to the transference of Pure Reflected Light holds the ordering of nature, the laws of physics and the mystery of the universes they preside over.

That Divine Awareness does exist is not a matter of faith, but of understanding.

The latter days of this evolution now stand where the portals can be reversed and the return can be accomplished.

It has been found that the essential essence of the Mary has returned and is awaiting the newly arriving essence of the Radiant Light in its projected thought form.

As this approaches there will be increasing times of great knowledge rediscovered.

There will be an understanding coming forth from the minds of those who carry the innate teachings of the way and nature of human consciousness.

It has been destined to be in this clock of time.

Therefore this is the revival.

Time is a virtual truth of the Earth alone.

It is a release, yet a binder.

In the understanding of unbound thought it holds no limitation.

Seek the truth of the Path Way that has no bounds, no limits, and no fractures.

It is seamless travel from point to point.

It is a place of ultimate safety and a vibrant link of knowing.

It was along this line that the arrival of Easa was ensured.

It was along this path that the Mary came, returned and has come again to the world called Earth.

Find for yourself this access to freedom hidden with in the recesses of your inherited DNA.

See and hear for yourself the truth that brings release and renewal.

Take from your shoulders the cloak of lies that has for thousands of years bred discontent and illusion.

Remake your reality to ensure your understanding of this story.

There was a Radiant Light.

It came to Earth in the form of a man.

He came to Earth to bring hope.

He was a co-terminus Being of Divinity.

He stood for the greater good.

It was unnecessary to define his appearance with a lie.

His place here was granted and made possible by the Sound held within the Mary.

Together they, as co-terminus Beings of Divine Awareness traversed the Earth carrying the true memory of the Divine.

It was the memory to be found within the realization of the Oneness, Sound and Light in unison; Divine Thought.

Easa arrived here as he left.

He never changed from his form of arrival, that of a man appearing to have 33 years of Earth life.

He was a miracle sent from Divinity.

He came to ensure the lesser gods could be trapped so in a manner of speaking it is a truth that he came to bring salvation.

He came as a perfected Being of Light without shadow.

He was never born of woman.

He never suffered death.

He was never crucified and buried.

He never arose.

He and the Mary simply transcended when the work was completed.

The Mary came into form as a Being of Eternal Sound, and therefore a Being of Divine inspiration.

She was formed of the Earth and the Sky.

She was of the essence of the Star Woman, who had carried the Stars with her and transformed those Stars into the history of the Earth via the essences.

Mary was sent to Earth to become the reflective vessel for the Radiant Light Being.

She did grow from a child to become a woman in the time of Easa.

She traversed the Path Way to return to the side of Spirit to join with the Radiant Light so that they would become as one when they moved on the Earth plane.

She transcended with the Radiant Light at the appointed time of departure from the place in the Somerset where the mark still stands.

The Magdalena was one of “the Followers of Hope.”

She was never any of the things assigned to her by a dogmatic religious system.

The Magdalena hidden within her place did hold failsafe the truths in her heart and did serve as the record keeper.

She did give birth to a child conceived within the understanding of the Divine.

The child was a daughter of the Stars.

She was a child of the Heavens, the inheritor of the bloodline of the race of the Star Lit Lantern.

She, as her mother had done before her, remained a journal of the truth.

The Mary and the Radiant Light returned for the Magdalena and she did ascend with them to the realms of Spirit.

The Magdalena energy has come again to join with the Mary, to await the return of the Radiant Light.

The Magdalena's daughter was the realized grail of communion, the promise of the covenant of the return.

