ABOUT ME

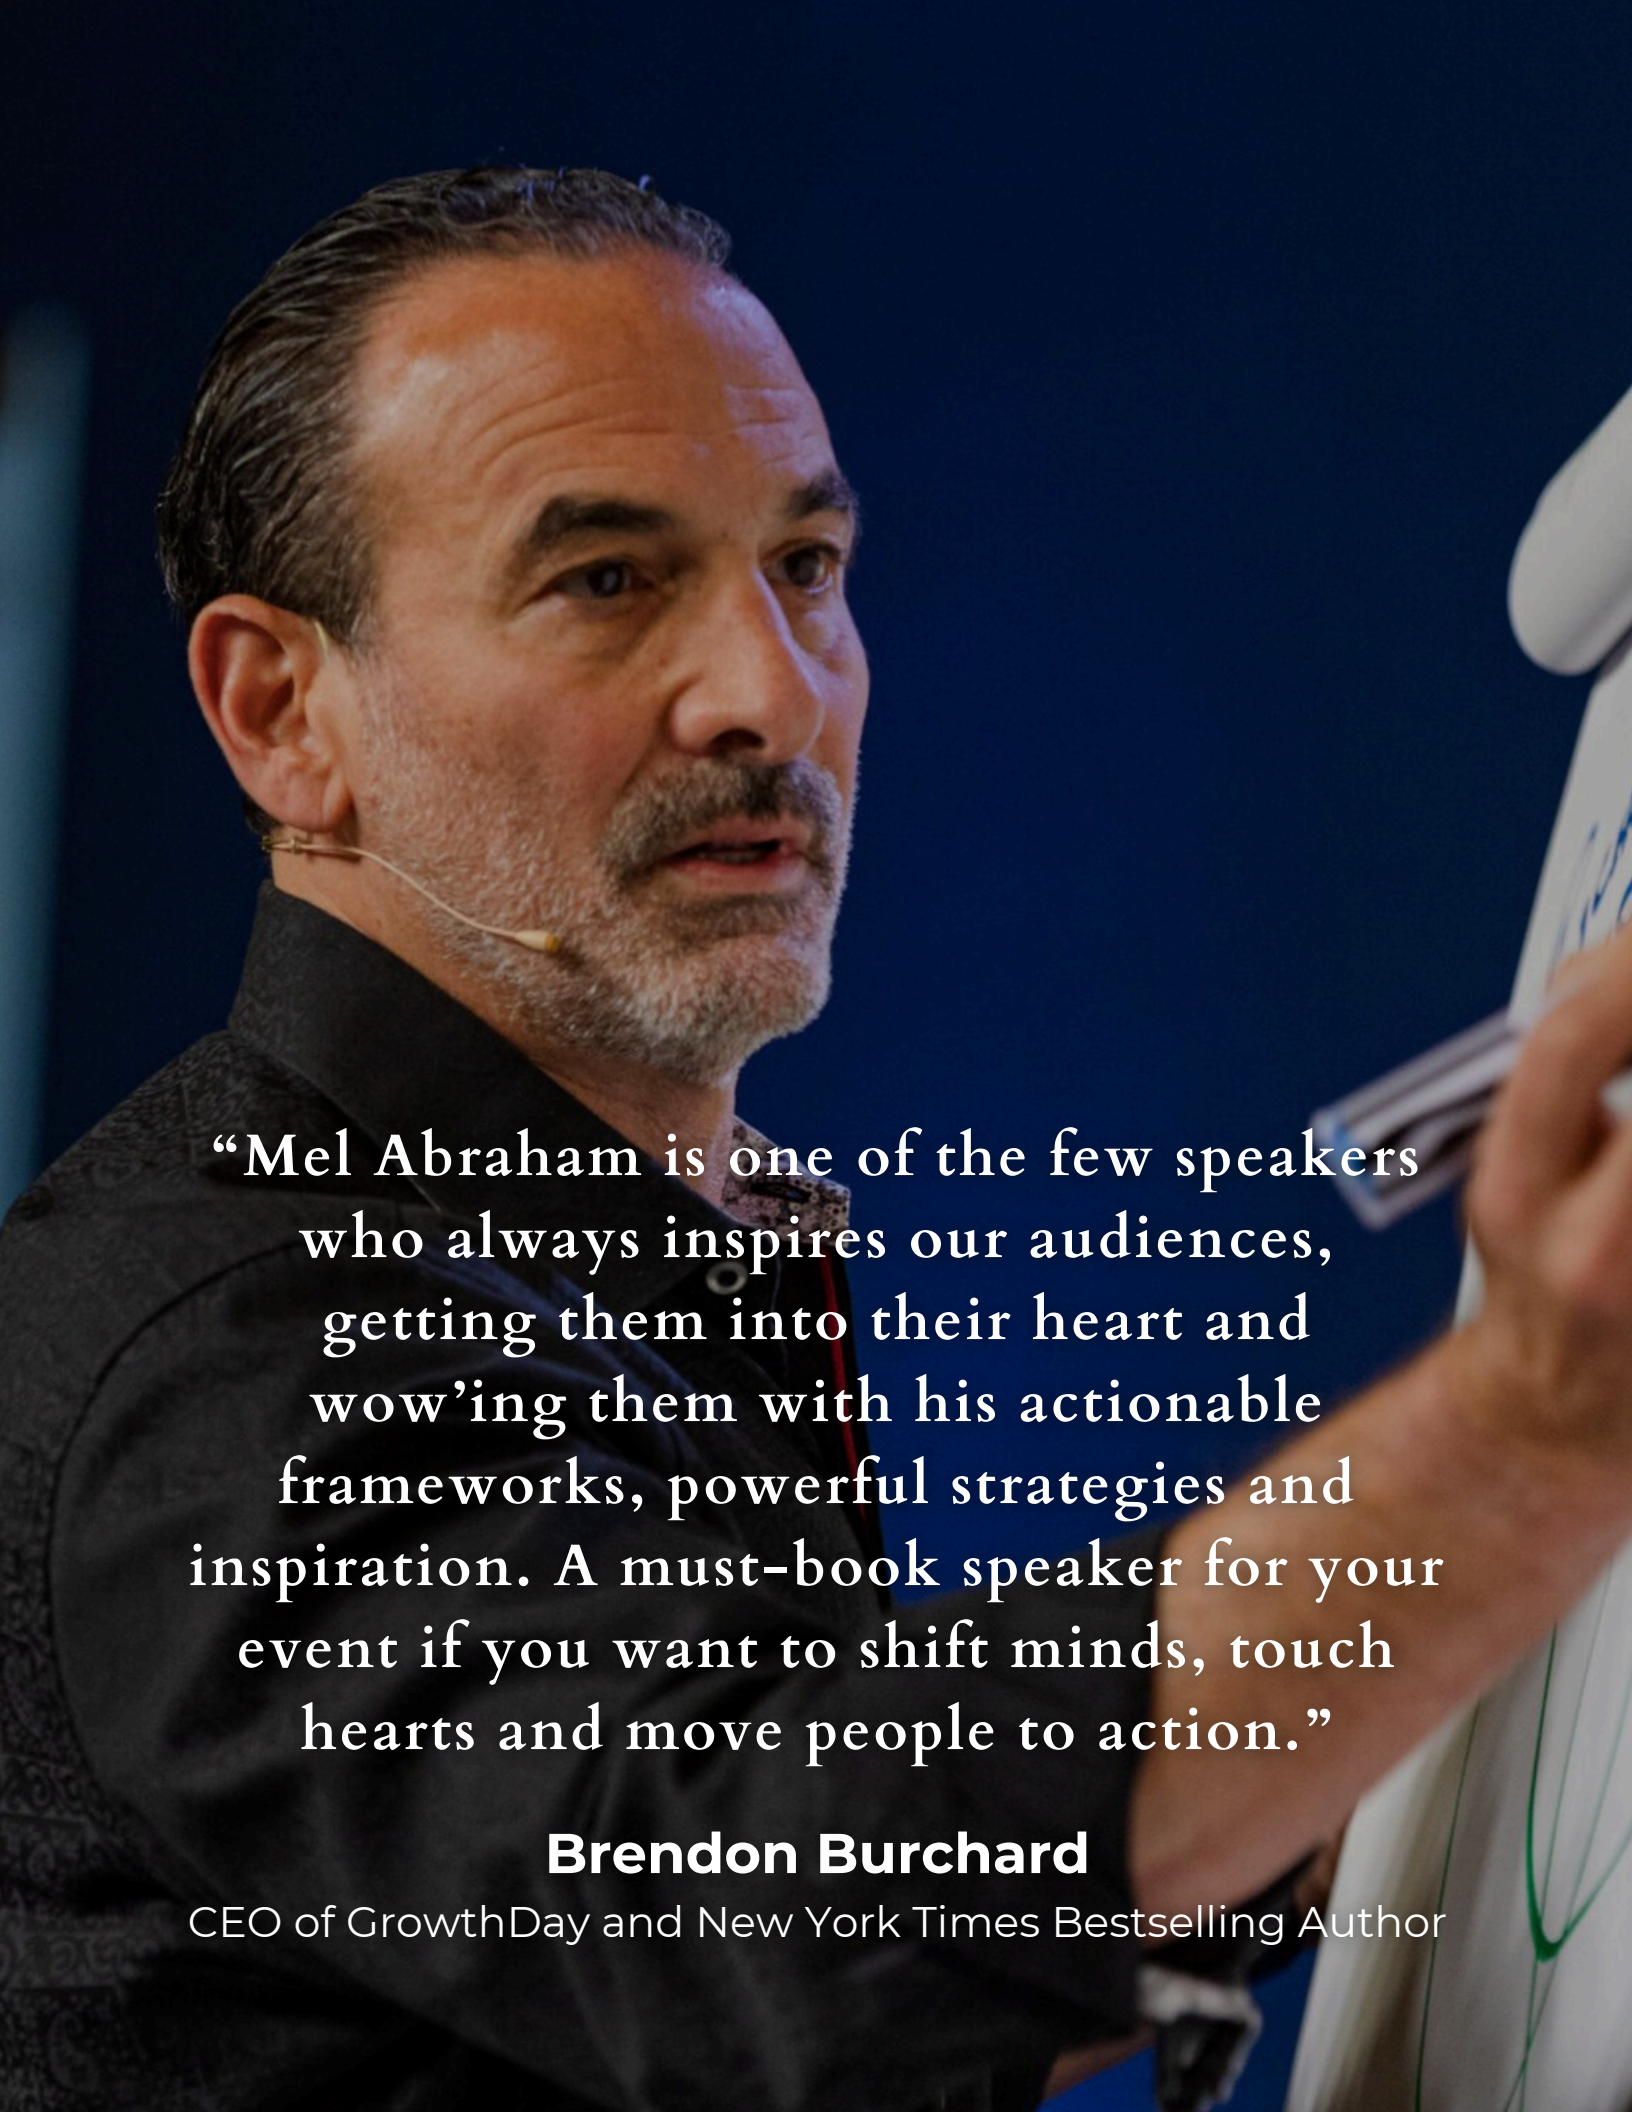

Hey there, I'm Mel. My journey into helping others build lives filled with purpose, freedom, and impact starts with a single, eye-opening moment—thanks to a blue felt-tip drawing by my six-year-old son. It wasn't a picture of superhero antics or playful adventures, but of me, always working, seldom present as the dad he needed. That drawing wasn't just a wakeup call; it was a roadmap to a different life—a life I had to choose intentionally.

That moment reshaped my entire approach. It pushed me to stop living at the mercy of demands and start crafting a life on my own terms. This quest led me to develop what I now call the “Money Machine,” a system that isn't just about financial success but about creating time for what truly matters.

In my USA Today Bestselling book, “Building Your Money Machine,” I delve into this journey and the strategies that anyone can use to achieve personal and financial freedom. It's not just about making more—it's about making the most of what you have to live a life aligned with your values and dreams.

With decades of experience in entrepreneurship, advising businesses and individuals, today I'm obsessed about sharing this path with you. If you're tired of the grind and ready to take control, let's work together to build not just a thriving business but a vibrant, fulfilling life. It's about more than money; it's about making every day count.

I am blessed to be able to serve over 2 million viewers through my speaking, writing and weekly show where I share the processes, frameworks and tools to make it a reality.
