

An Ad to get Hardcore MAGA Supporters to Turn Against Donald Trump

Donald Trump always plays to people's basest instincts. He has shown the way to appeal to his hardcore supporters.

Have this ad voiced by Sam Elliott or someone else whose voice evokes gravitas and masculinity, and play it as often as you can afford on "Hannity" and other Fox News programs.

This ad will not only send Trump into a meltdown, its provocative content will also likely generate tons of free media.

Even if the ad does not convince MAGA diehards to vote for Kamala, it may demoralize large numbers of them and cause them not to vote at all.

(There should be no reference to Kamala Harris; this needs to be all about Trump.)

Audio	Video
Hey MAGA- how does it feel to learn that Donald Trump has been playing you for a gullible fool for the last four years? Trump has known for certain since November 2020 that he lost the election fair and square, and now he accidentally came clean on Lex Fridman's podcast when he admitted he "lost by a whisker".	Various pictures of Trump supporters with their flags and symbols. Video clip from podcast
How does it feel to know you have been betrayed by the man to whom you have offered such loyalty? Maybe you have a sense as to how Mike Pence must feel.	Unflattering pictures of Trump. Photo of gallows set up by MAGA rioters
And all you J6 inmates, how does it feel to know that you have lost your freedom and now have a criminal record because you fell for the big lie told by the biggest liar who has ever occupied the White House?	Video from riot at the capitol (Text) Washington Post fact-checkers documented 30,573 false or misleading claims during his presidential term, an average of about 21 per day.
And now that you know, what are you going to do about it? Are you going to continue to be loyal to the jerk who has played you for a fool, or will you take sweet revenge and vote against the bastard this time around?	Trump mug shot inside a "no" symbol. Replay the "lost by a whisker" quote to fadeout.