To Whom it May Concern

Dr Lisa Landymore-Lim was a guest on my talk-back and current affairs programme on Monday August 29 for approximately three quarters of an hour.

During this time she discussed her work and book "Poisonous Prescriptions" and took calls from our listeners who rang in considerable numbers to chat with her. The response when she was on-air, and that which followed through the course of the afternoon, illustrated to me that there is a great interest in Dr Landymore-Lim's work. Feed-back from callers suggest that the issues raised were ones of general concern to our audience, and their response to Dr Landymore-Lim indicated they are keen to be exposed to more of her research.

Indeed, even I found it necessary to get her to comment on my Sudafed tablets!

Sincerely
