

PROFESSORS & A FEW SENIOR CONSULTANTS IN MY INTERNATIONAL DIABETES STUDY

UK

Professor John Wass

Grants from the Medical Research Council
British Diabetic Association
Wellcome Trust
Department of Health
Sir Jules Thorn Charitable Trust
Arthritis Research Council
EU Public Health

john.wass@nhs.net

Professor Mike Cummings

Professor of Diabetes & Endocrinology
Portsmouth Hospitals NHS Trust
NIHR Clinical Research Network
Co-Director Southern Diabetes Medical Services

communications@porthosp.nhs.uk

Professor Partha Kar

National Speciality Advisor for Diabetes in NHS England
Portsmouth

communications@porthosp.nhs.uk

Professor Nick Oliver

Consultant diabetologist specialising in insulin pumps and glucose monitoring including implanted devices
Imperial College
imperial.press.office@nhs.net

Professor Tricia Tan

Consultant in Diabetes, Endocrinology and Metabolic Medicine
Conducts gut research and physiological studies into the impact of gut hormones on weight and T2DM
Director of the SAS Gut Hormone Service

imperial.press.office@nhs.net

Professor Guy Rutter

Professor of Cell Biology and Functional Genomics Research

Has collaborators all over the world and has researched diabetes genes

imperial.press.office@nhs.net

Professor Alexander Comninos

Professor of Practice (Endocrinology)

Leads the Imperial Endocrine Bone Unit

Mick Harbuz Prize from the British Society for Neuroendocrinology

imperial.press.office@nhs.net

Professor Philippe Froguel

Professor of Genomic Medicine

Chair of genomics of common diseases Imperial College London

Former head of the diabetes laboratory at CEPH Paris
