Coming Events

Here we are again in a brand new year. There's not much to tell you as we're only just back to start our 2024 dancing.

Welcome everyone. It was so good to catch up with you at class. We were obviously excited to be back as our halls sounded like a country pub, as my dear old mum would say. I'm not sure what the difference is between a country pub and a city, but there you go!

Our Christmas party was awesome, as always. You don't want to hear about Christmas now so I'll just say a big thank you to all who made it happen. Jim and I hope you had a wonderful holiday with family and friends over our five week Christmas period.

BEGINNERS: A special welcome to our new beginners, some of whom have only this week been to their first class. We look forward to seeing you all on the dancefloor and hope that you will love your dancing and class friendships as we do.

Our newsletters should have all the information, class times, etc that you need. Please don't hesitate to ask if something isn't clear or you need more details. Beginners are also given our 'blue letter' of welcome at their first class to give them some insight into what we do.

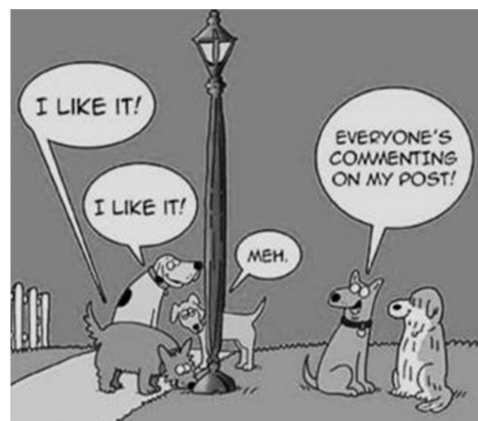

We have a website www.didenim.com which has back issues of your newsletters; handy if you want to know what we've been up to in the past! Website also has a dictionary of step descriptions, called 'Glossary'. Individual dance sheets are not linked to our website but can be found on the sites 'Copperknob' or 'Aussie Dancesheets.' Likewise videos aren't linked but can be found on YouTube. Don't forget to add name of choreographer as well as dance when searching.

COMICS: Our newsletter this time looks like a comic, which isn't a bad thing. Our daily papers no longer have a comic section. People get offended too easily. To quote an article in today's Tele "At what point did we forget a joke is a joke?"

Please send me anything you think suitable, be it a cut from a church or sport flyer or online. We can acknowledge your first name with it if you like. If I don't print it, it's not suitable to be online for all to see. Our very early issues weren't online and included names and funny things that happened to them. One comes to mind.. when leaving class she yelled to her friend getting into her car 'Hey, are you getting any tonight?' innocently meaning was she picking up her fruit & vegies so they could get their usual coffee. Like with anything, use your discretion.

COMING EVENTS: Our socials cater for everyone and it's a great time to catch up with friends in a relaxed atmosphere. Next social is Saturday 17 February and theme is 'colourful summer'. Telegraph Point hall is also air conditioned. See back page.

Take care, look forward to seeing you in class.

SINGLES AD
The following ad appeared in the Atlanta Journal:

SINGLE BLACK FEMALE seeks male companionship. Ethnicity not important. I'm a very good looking girl who LOVES to play. I love long walks in the woods, riding in your pickup truck, hunting, camping and fishing trips, cozy winter nights lying by the fire. Candlelight dinners will have me eating out of your hand.
When you get home from work I'll be at the front door wearing only what nature gave me. Call (404) 555-1212 and ask for Daisy.

The shit - perfection

We are not all in the same boat.
We are in the same storm. Some have yachts,
some have canoes,
and some are drowning.
Just be kind and help whoever you can.

A big-game hunter went on safari with his wife and mother-in-law.

One night the couple woke to find the mother gone. In a clearing not far from the camp they came upon a chilling sight, the mother-in-law was backed up against a tree with a snarling lion facing her.

The wife said: "What are we going to do?"

Nothing," said the husband

"The lion got himself into this mess, he can get himself out of it."

"Alexa, where's my dad?"

"Your dad is in a Strip Club in Las Vegas"

"HA GOTTTCHA ALEXA MY DAD IS SITTING RIGHT NEXT TO ME" @nicnacturner

"Your mom's husband is sitting right next to you. Your dad is in a strip club in Las Vegas" 🤔

Told my Dad I ran out of alcohol and didn't have any money to buy any for the weekend..so he gave me the huge bottle of vodka from the cupboard that I stole and replaced with water when I was 16... life really does come back to bite u in the ass

THERE ARE SO MANY SCAMS ON THE INTERNET NOWADAYS.
SEND ME $19.95 AND I WILL TELL YOU HOW TO AVOID THEM.

"Here's the church. Here is the steeple. Open the doors to see all the people."

Do you remember this from your childhood?

It'd be a shame to discontinue this section after so many years. I need your birthday! Please write beside your name in the red book; just day/month, no year. Surnames aren't printed.

I don't like it when people text me in abbreviations at this old age. They be like "GM!" Well, General Motors to you too

There are more Christmas photos are on our facebook group site. Thank you to everyone who donated goods for all these hampers. You made a lot of people very happy!

I had a blind date last night, but before it I was worried what to do if she was really unattractive. My friend told me not to worry as there's an app for just that situation. It's called 'Mum Are You Okay' and it schedules your phone to ring just after you meet your date:

If you like her, you just ignore your phone. If you want to cut short the date, you answer with. "Mum? What's the matter? Are you okay?"

It works every time, no worries.

So anyway, I knocked on the girl's door and it turns out I needn't have worried at all. She was absolutely gorgeous and stunning.

But just when I was about to speak to her, her phone rang. She answered it and said. "Mum? What's the matter? Are you okay?"
