

Supercharge Your Next Event

Experience is the Difference

Vickie Mabry-Height,
M.D., MPH, FACP

Healthcare Executive, Physician,
Author, Entrepreneur, Keynote
Speaker & Real Estate Investor

"As one who has overcome incredible odds,
Dr. Mabry-Height speaks from a place of knowing and a heart of service."

Mr. Les Brown, World Renowned Speaker

Dr. Vickie Y. Mabry-Height, M.D., MPH, FACP is a 40+ year physician entrepreneur and powerful keynote speaker. She has a prescription for changing adversity into opportunities despite your circumstances. She has 30+ years of experience as a real-estate investor and is endorsed by one of the world's leading motivational speakers, Mr. Les Brown.

She was born in Greenville, North Carolina but lived most of her life in New York City, where she graduated from John Dewey High School, and summa cum laude from York College of the City University of New York, before earning her medical doctorate from Yeshiva University & Albert Einstein College of Medicine. Because of an interest in improving the delivery of healthcare to underserved populations she pursued a fellowship in Community Health that allowed her to volunteer as a "foot doctor," in Kenya during her medical training.

Her internship and first year residency were at the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University. She completed her residency at USC-LAC in Internal Medicine and was selected by the California Healthcare Foundation as a Leadership Fellow, which she completed at the University of California at San Francisco. She also graduated from the University of California at Los Angeles with a Master's in Public Health (MPH) with emphasis in Environmental & Occupational Toxicology. The American Board of Internal Medicine certified her in internal medicine in 1990, and she is board eligible in Occupational Medicine.

She has received awards recognizing her contributions to the United States Postal Service, was the recipient of a Congressional Award for Community Service for her volunteer work with abused children, and is a Fellow of the American College of Physicians (FACP).

For Bookings

(909) 748 – 0977

www.DrVickieMD.com

Vickie Mabry-Height, MD, MPH, FACP
P. O. Box 542
Rancho Mirage, CA 92270

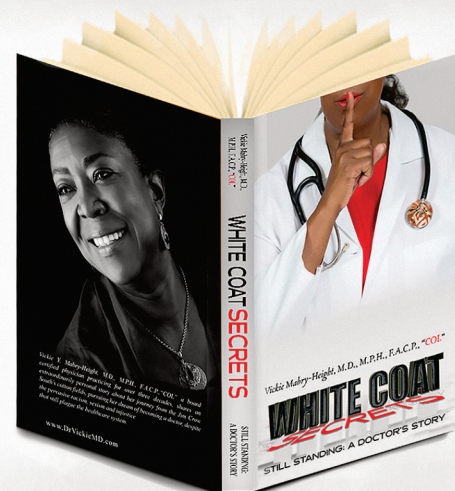

Can We Talk About It!

- Physician Entrepreneur
- Success requires T.E.A.R.S.
- Be Empowered – Turn Dreams into Reality
- Illuminating the Path to Excellence
- A Vital Pulse Check: Diversity, Equity & Inclusion
- Echo of Crisis: Health Disparities & Race Relations
- Pressure to Purpose: Overcoming Adversity
- Keys to Health, Wellness & Life-Balance
- Ensure your child's success – Become A UNICORN!
- How to Live a Life That Matters
- What it is like being an Internal Medicine Doctor
- Echo from the Past: Reparations NOW!

Past Speaker Events

- Student National Medical Association (SNMA) – Guest Speaker
- Rosalind Franklin Medical School – Medical Student Luncheon - Guest Speaker
- York College of the City University of New York – Provost Distinguished Scholars Lecture Speaker
- Fremont College Trailblazing Woman Speaker
- National Medical Association (NMA) New Authors
- Sharvette.com – On the air with Author, DrVickieMD

Dr. Mabry-Height was compelled to tell this story for America's 14 million poor children that may have aspirations of achieving success.

What are they saying about the book

A short memoir, but one that's packed with advice.

Kirkus Reviews

Dr. Vickie MD is a trailblazer and her book captures the depth of her perseverance in a manner that is empowering for all.

Member, National Medical Association

As a second-year medical student this book was an eye opener and truly a great read.

Medical Student Rosalind Franklin University of Medicine.

This book is an honest and compassionate look at the realities of a healthcare career with an emphasis on what it was like to be Black and a woman.

Professor of York College of the City University of New York.