TAKE AWAYS

The kids LOVED designing their own wearable blanket. Space for personal belongings is limited so this two-in-one (blanket and sweatshirt) is the perfect addition – it takes up space but it serves two functions.

The children (and adults) really appreciated that they could personalize the wearable blanket with their names. The pride of ownership was evident – seeing their name on such a special item had a great impact.

Watching the moms and kids work together – enjoying a fun afternoon activity in a positive and nurturing environment created a special magic in the room.

Always order one set of everything in advance so you can do a trial run before hosting the event. We did this and it really helped us figure out which patches were the best quality.

IMPROVEMENTS

You can never have too many As, Is and Es. A quick trick that we learned....we used the many extra V's as A's (we just turned them upside down). We created I's by trimming our F's and we created E's by trimming the round parts of the B's. This ended up being essential when we were ran out of those very popular vowels.

ORGANIZE YOUR LETTERS IN ADVANCE – in the beginning, finding letters was a little chaotic. One of the Bring Sunshine volunteers set up a station to organize the letters which made the design aspect go more smoothly.

Bring extra scissors – no matter how well you plan, you will end up having to get creative with the letters in order to complete each guest's creation. Scissors are the best tool – they will allow you to sculpt letters that you may need.
