♦ About The Interval

The Interval is a private, luxury retreat for women who value beauty, presence, and intentional living. Held in Santa Fe, New Mexico, this experience is rooted in quiet elegance and substance—not hype or performance.

This retreat is for women who are not seeking healing—they’re seeking space. Space to breathe. To connect. To enjoy meaningful conversation, excellent food, and beautiful surroundings in good company.

As we prepare to welcome a small circle of attendees, we are also opening a few select sponsorship opportunities for aligned brands, creatives, and service providers to support and be part of the experience.

♦ Why Sponsor This Retreat?

Our guests are experienced, intentional, and highly selective. They are thoughtful spenders, deep feelers, and value-driven women who appreciate brands with story, style, and integrity.

Sponsoring The Interval offers you the rare chance to connect directly with a small, engaged audience of women who pay attention—and pay for what feels aligned.

This is not mass advertising.

This is intentional placement in a trusted, beautiful context.
