

Terms of Use

LeMaitre and Associates is a small company management consulting firm specializing in operational risk and project management. Our North Carolina clients can now make use of our Notary Public services. We work with the leaders of these organizations to help them realize their mission. Our idea is to help these firms achieve a degree of rigour and capacity that will allow them to go to the next level of success by providing our two significant services: operational risk consulting and project management. We may serve clients in any place due to our predominantly virtual business model under the provided terms and conditions. You agree to these Terms by accessing and using this Site. Please read our Privacy Policy to elucidate LeMaitre and Associates' policies and practices regarding the gathering, usage, and keeping of our clients' details.
