LHASA ASPO

Did You Know? Fun Fact About Lhasa Apsos!

The Lhasa Apso were originally bred as sentinel dogs in Tibetan monasteries, where they were historically tasked with guarding monasteries, palaces, and homes, alerting residents to any intruders, believed to bring good luck and protect against misfortune, and highly valued for their loyalty and protective nature. Their name comes from Lhasa, the capital of Tibet!

Characteristics:

Lhasa Apsos are small yet sturdy dogs with a distinctive long, flowing coat that can come in a variety of colours. Their luxurious fur, dark round eyes, and confident stance give them a regal and elegant look. Despite their size, they are known for their bold and dignified presence.

Temperament:

Independent, intelligent, and affectionate with those they trust, Lhasas can be wary of strangers—which made them excellent watchdogs in Tibetan temples. Once bonded with their people, they are loyal companions who enjoy both play and calm snuggles.

A Bit of History:

For centuries, Lhasa Apsos were considered sacred in Tibetan culture and were traditionally gifted as a symbol of good fortune. It wasn't until the early 20th century that they began appearing in other parts of the world. Today, they are beloved for their unique mix of charm, confidence, and elegance.

Size : Small

Cutie Factor : 🐾 🐾 🐾 🐾 🐾

Grooming Schedule: 5-8 weeks

Colours : Golden, White, Black, Grizzle, Honey.

GARDEN GUARD

SPRING GARDEN/OUTDOOR HAZARDS TO WATCH OUT FOR!

As the weather warms up, our pups are enjoying more outdoor adventures, but it's important to be aware of a few potential hazards to keep them safe during these exciting spring days.

 Be Mindful of Garden Hazards: Spring gardens can pose risks to curious pups. Keep an eye on them around flower beds, as some plants like lilies, daffodils, and bluebells can be toxic if ingested. Also, consider checking for any harmful pesticides or fertilisers that might be lurking in your garden.

 Post-Adventure Checks: After garden play or woodland walks, it's a good idea to give your dogs a quick once-over. check ears, paws, and fur for any hidden thorns, seeds, or ticks.

 Bites and Stings: As flowers bloom, bees, wasps, and other insects become more active. A sting can be painful for your pup and could lead to swelling or an allergic reaction. If you notice excessive swelling or signs of distress after a sting, a quick trip to the vet may be needed.

 Poisonous Mushrooms: Warm, damp weather can cause mushrooms to pop up in gardens and parks. While some mushrooms are harmless, others can be toxic to dogs. Keep your dog away from any mushrooms they might find.

With a little extra awareness and care, you and your furry friend can enjoy all the wonderful outdoor fun that spring has to offer—safely and happily!
