Traffic Violations

You are responsible for legal infractions such as traffic violations. If we receive a notice and process a violation, you will be charged a 100 GH¢ processing fee in addition to the original cost of the ticket.

How do I pay for it?

You will be responsible for settling the ticket with the issuing municipality directly. Please follow their payment options accordingly. While you are not the owner of the vehicle and the ticket may not be in your name, you will still be responsible for the ticket.

What if I don't pay it?

If you do not pay a ticket, we will be notified and charge you a 100 GH¢ processing fee. Additionally, you are responsible for the cost of the ticket including any late fees and we will bill the total to your account. Other fines or membership suspension can also occur if the ticket is not paid on time.

Can I dispute it?

If you wish to contest a violation and the issuing municipality allows it, please do so promptly. If we receive a notice in the mail and you have yet to dispute the ticket with the issuing municipality, we will automatically bill your account for the amount of the violation, plus the processing fee.
