Thanks for the heads up. I know of one that still needs to come down, and we'll get on it right away. I'll also do another tour and see if I can find any others. If you have specific locations, let me know.

Can you give me an update about the no trespassing signs in Cardiff? We have had folks come in and ask about whether or not they can walk up the Cardiff road and that there are no trespassing signs up. I assume you haven't had an opportunity to take some down but when you take down what you plan to take down, please let me know so that we know which areas are still no trespassing.
