Moisture Barrier Recommendation: To ensure the longevity and performance of your vinyl flooring, we highly recommend installing a moisture barrier, such as plastic sheeting, underneath the flooring when it is being laid over concrete surfaces. Concrete can naturally emit moisture, which may lead to issues like buckling or adhesive failure over time. Using a moisture barrier helps prevent this, ensuring the integrity of the flooring and maintain its warranty coverage

Important Installation Consideration:

To ensure optimal performance and longevity of your vinyl flooring, we do not recommend installing vinyl flooring underneath permanent fixtures, such as cabinets. Vinyl flooring is designed to expand and contract with temperature and humidity changes, and the weight of heavy objects can impede this natural movement, potentially causing damage to the flooring. For best results, we advise leaving a gap around fixed structures and installing the flooring only in areas where it can move freely.

Failure to follow this recommendation may void the warranty.
