

PUREBLOOD Announces Debut Single “Crash Out”

Out October 3, 2025 via Hola Entertainment

Two musicians. One vision. PUREBLOOD. [West Palm Beach, FL] — September 22, 2025 — Pureblood, the explosive new collaboration between vocalist Cesar Punski (formerly of Grounds and Oh Romeo!) and guitarist/producer Alex Lipshaw (Hey Monday), will release their debut single “Crash Out” on October 3, 2025 via Hola Entertainment. Formed in 2025, Pureblood blends the raw edge of punk with the soaring emotion of alternative rock, delivering a sound that feels urgent, powerful, and built for today’s scene. With Cesar’s sharp ear for hooks and Alex’s sharp ear for production, the band pushes the scene forward — combining grit and polish in a way that connects across genres and audiences. “Crash Out” sets the tone for what’s to come: heavy yet melodic, anthemic yet vulnerable. The track is the first step in a run of releases that establish Pureblood as a band with something vital to say — right now.

“This is the music I’ve always wanted to make — raw, emotional, and fearless,” says Cesar Punski. “With Alex’s production guiding it, Pureblood feels like the perfect balance of who I am as a songwriter and where the scene is headed.”

“The chemistry was immediate,” adds Alex.

“Cesar’s instinct for hooks is unmatched, and together we’re making music that feels both fresh and timeless. Pureblood is about building something bigger than ourselves.”

With their debut single, Pureblood is ready to introduce themselves to fans worldwide and carve out their place among today’s leading alternative acts.

For fans of Blink-182, Hey Monday, and Green Day.

“Crash Out” will be available on all major streaming platforms on October 3, 2025.
