

Senate Resolution Honors Local Hunger Organization

Chattooga County's Helping Hands Ending Hunger was recently recognized by the Georgia State Senate.

The recognition ceremony and reception with Senator Jeff Mullis took place at Cherokee Ridge Elementary in Chickamauga. Senator Mullis presented a senate resolution recognizing the organization's accomplishments to the community.

"I'm thrilled to have now received two official resolutions from the Georgia Senate, thanks to the heartfelt support of Senator Mullis to his district. Recognition of our dedication to addressing food insecurity and childhood hunger throughout Georgia through our simple "kids helping kids" model is truly rewarding. I'm excited to know the future holds promise of more impact through public/private collaborations as we continue our mission to make a difference in the lives of food-insecure families throughout the state. We are extremely grateful for all the support," said Carla Harward, CEO of the organization.

The event was well attended by supporters from Chattooga County, Walker County, and Dalton County schools and Northwest Georgia contributors filled the room.

Matt Connelly, Chairman, Remedium Life Science attended the event and spoke about prior collaborative durable goods donation events and synergy with the community as well as his vision for sustainable outreach.

Helping Hands Honored

The local organization aimed to end hunger in Northwest Georgia and beyond was recognized by the Georgia Senate recently. Pictured at the recognition event were Matt Connelly, Sophie Harward, Sen. Jeff Mullis, Carla Harward, Lanny Thomas, Blake Elsberry, Kendra Stallings, Erin Hernandez, and Pedro Avila.