

At the Fancy Nightshade glory arena and club, what's even next for the fancy nightshade? A hotel? probably, a spa?, a casino? tennis courts? ???? anything is possible, it's magic, but it's real. Well, what's going on is you want to know what you could know.... I'm going to tell you now. You could get a membership to the Fancy Nightshade supreme concept glory arena.

There is a hotel and spa now!,and a casino,there will be tennis courts,maybe evn race tracks,no,no....there will be race tracks!maybe even an amusement park!!! The point is,you want to be around for what there is here,the way for that is a membership,for a monthly or yearly fee,you could come to the Fancy Nightshade (resort is what I suppose you call it by the time it is this big),anytime,no need to bother with tickets and cover admission charges,get discounts on resort stock and be the first to know about a lot(in the evil world,everyhing cannot be reported right out front,ppl and such would have some kind of piss storm fit,not understanding what goes on in the world,but you might become privy to knowledges when you are a member.Along with included items and discounted prices on 5cent to a few dollars on some items, this is a whole world you are probably not going to want to miss out on. You could not spend ,not waste your time*on a better thing,so far,I think.I'm going to go with my own opinion on this one,you could not spend your time on something that isn't a waste better than what this is.

As I announced in an earlier promo,it is happy hour free admission 9am-to7pm this week,just say the magic words:~simpatico bot~

Details on prices and memberships are coming as soon as they are finalized,stay tuned,and praise it,power of evil!
