Games no longer played at 21 points 2. Best games of all odd (3 of 5, 4 of 7, etc.). Before the first part of the game begins, there are several hands. 3. Run coins to start (not "ping" what serves). The winner chooses to serve or receive first, or choose which end of the table to play in the first part. The loser has the remaining choice. 4. Substitution serves every 2 points until the end of the game or until the score reaches 10-10 (two). At 10-10, the other serves each point until the player is 2 points ahead and wins the game. 5. The first server in a part becomes the first receiver in another part. 6. Change frveritically up at least 6 inches (not maximum) and hit him when he falls. If you don't serve well after throwing, you lose the point, even if you don't touch the ball. V. When the server touches the ball, he must first touch the serving side of the table, pass through the net without touching it, and land anywhere on the opponent's side. e) If the served ball hits the net and falls towards or away from the server, the point is lost. However, if the served ball hits the net and lands on the opponent's side, the serve is called a "net" and continues. There is no limit to the number of consecutive "clean serves". 8. The ball can only be hit once on the receiver's side before it returns. From this point on, all balls must pass directly over or around the net and land in the opponent's high court. Refunds related to the network or its operation still apply. Hits that hit anything other than the opponent's net or court are out of play, is lost unless the ball is blocked on a return pass, in which case the substitution is permitted and replayed. 10. A ball that hits the top of the table is good, but a ball that hits the side is bad. 11. Backstrokes that bounce directly off the racket's hand or any part of it are always in play. Points are lost in the event of a rebound of the ball hit with both hands and racket, with the arm without the racket, or with the racket not in the hand. 12. A player who touches the ball with his free hand while playing a point loses the point. A player who touches the net or moves the table (even accidentally) while scoring a point also loses the point. 13. A player may not hit the ball twice in a row ("double hit"). 14. The rules have been clearly defined on the ITTF website, but since the site has been completely updated, they are now difficult to find and must be extracted from the ITTF manual, which is painful because it is a large PDF document. It is for this reason that I created this site, which means that the rules in simple sections can be read and constitute a useful reference. I will update this section regularly so that it always contains the last rules (although very few changes over time). There are other rules and regulations for international game, but they are added to the following rules and generally apply to simple matches like us because we play under national conditions. Minor modifications or modifications to the general regulations are offered each year by ITTF and/or its members. A majority of the ITTF AGA will decide whether the new regulations are accepted. The entire association of members can vote and have equal weight. The weight of the voting of a great power of table tennis like China is the same weight as the coordination of a small country like Djibouti. The rules of table tennis are divided into a section on the equipment that contains the equipment of the game and a section on the rules which covers all the rules of play. 1.0. 1.1. 1.2. 1.3. 1.4.
