

Reminders:

- ALL children are to be walked the entire way to their classroom each day. Please do not leave your children unattended to make their way to class.
- Accidents happen, be it potty, food or messy play. So please make sure your little one/s have a couple changes of clothes.
- Fitted crib/toddler sheet and blanket are required by state for barrier between child and mat/cot. Please bring sheet and blanket at the beginning of the week and take home at the end of the week to be laundered.
- Toys, Electronics (including Cell Phones), Money, and Jewelry should not be brought from home. Exceptions are books and one item for Show and Tell day (SDC & K4 will have their show and tell day on Fridays). All items MUST be labeled with first & last names.

Puddle Jumpers CEC is not responsible for lost, damaged, or broken items.

- Meals are included in the price of tuition. For safety reasons (i.e., severe allergies) and behavior reasons, it is better if all children are served the same food. No other food is allowed in the Center. In the case of any allergies or religious beliefs that you and your child may have we will make every effort to accommodate your child. If you miss your child's scheduled mealtimes, we kindly request that you provide a meal for your child and please have him/her finish it prior to coming into the classroom.

Show & Tell Guide:

Always read labels to make sure a toy is appropriate for a child's age. Guidelines published by the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) and other groups can help you make those buying decisions.

And consider your child's temperament, habits, and behavior whenever you buy a new toy. Even a child who seems advanced compared with other kids the same age shouldn't use toys meant for older kids. The age levels for toys are determined by safety factors, not intelligence or maturity.

Keep these age-specific guidelines in mind:

*Check the safety of ALL Show & Tell items before bringing them in.
You must label ALL items and if it is a special/heirloom item please do not send it in for Show & Tell.

- Toys should be large enough — at least 1¼ inches (3 centimeters) in diameter and 2¼ inches (6 centimeters) in length — so that they can't be swallowed or lodged in the windpipe. A small-parts tester, or choke tube, can determine if a toy is too small. These tubes are designed to be about the same diameter as a child's windpipe. If an object fits inside the tube, then it's too small for a young child. If you can't find a choke tube, ask a salesperson for help or use a toilet paper roll tube.
- Avoid marbles, coins, balls, and games with balls that are 1.75 inches (4.4 centimeters) in diameter or less because they can get stuck in the throat above the windpipe and make breathing difficult.
- Battery-operated toys should have battery cases that secure with screws so that kids cannot pry them open. Batteries and battery fluid pose serious risks, including choking, internal bleeding, and chemical burns.
- When checking a toy for a baby or toddler, make sure it's unbreakable and strong enough to withstand chewing. Also, make sure it doesn't have:
  - sharp ends or small parts like eyes, wheels, or buttons that can be pulled loose
  - small ends that can reach the back of the mouth
  - strings longer than 7 inches (18 centimeters)
  - parts that could pinch small fingers

WARNING:

CHOKING HAZARD — Small parts not for children under 3 years or any individuals who have a tendency to place inedible objects in their mouths.
