

Creating Quality Handcrafted Functional and Decorative Pottery For over 30 Years

"We started Romanick Pottery in 1994 with the dream of owning our own studio / gallery and doing what we love to do. Creating what excites us: beautiful shapes, rich earthy colors with sculpture and finely crafted lines which come from our hearts.

Paul: "I strive to challenge my mastery creating shapes and designs on a potter's wheel which stimulate people's senses. This motivates my work, giving me great satisfaction and inspiration to pursue new ideas."

Tonya: "The malleable properties of the clay excite me. Carving graphics takes me back to an earlier time when I studied commercial art. Working in an illustrated style, using hard lines and well defined spaces is a comfort for me."

All of our pottery is created in our studio just minutes from the University of Delaware in Newark. We invite you to call and visit our gallery by appointment and browse our selection of handcrafted pottery. From vases to pitchers, platters, beer growlers, steins and bowls. To whimsical sea creatures and detailed functional sculptures. We'll be happy to share our story and help you select the perfect gift or create a custom design just for you!

Thank you for supporting our dream!"

All of our glazes are food, microwave and dishwasher safe.
