CLUB NEWS

OCTOBER - 1957

PRESIDENTS' COLUMN

This month's meeting is very important to each and every member. You are to select your choice of officers for 1958. Your nominating committee has selected a slate of officers for you to vote on and remember nominations will be taken from the floor. The slate of officers to be presented to you is in the next column.

We will have a "Pot Luck" dinner along with our meeting. You may bring a Hot Dish, Salad or Dessert. If you bring a guest be sure to bring an extra dish. We were very short of food at our last Pot Luck.

This copy of "Club News" goes to press a little early to give you ample time to choose your prospective candidates for office.

Please make a note of this date, Oct. 16, 1957 and please attend this meeting and enjoy eating and conversing with a group of wonderful people.
Thank You.

Wallace Sheldon

-NOTE-

Please notify our secretary Hallie Torkildson if you change your address.

Do not bring your litter of Pups or Puppy to our training classes.

Be sure your cigarette is out when disposed of. Your dog may be the one to step on it.

September Meeting

On the 18th of Sept. we had a very exceptional meeting. We had with us Mrs. Fournier and Mrs. Frazer from the Pet Owners Protective Association and Dr. Aarron from the Public Health Dept.

They gave their opinions on the Rabies and License laws of the city and a more friendly argument could not have taken place, though the issue is a very controversial one.

We enjoyed having them with us and they stated that in the future, at our request they would be happy to review the subject again at one of our meetings.

Mrs. Ann Butler wishes to thank the Club for the flowers while she was ill.

PALS

You see us every morning,
A common pair are we,
Each on a leash's ending--
My little dog and me.
We amble village by-ways
In bright or dismal weather;
You may not think there's much in that,
But we have fun together.

No many-stranded cable
Could bear the jokes that pass
Between my little comrade
And me--my! how we sass!
But how we give assurance
That we don't really mean it!
(A dog-and-man companionship
Is balm to him who's seen it.)

He greets his dog friends gayly,
While I to neighbors speak;
He sometimes finds a treasure--
A bone that's lost its meat!
He talks with dogs or children,
While I swap views with master.
I had this thought the other day,
While visiting with Pastor.

"When dog and I have rambled on
Beyond this mundane scope,
And seen the Golden Gateway,
(From the inside, we hope!)
We won't pause on the highway
Made smooth for feet more sainted,
But wander down some quiet land,
And start to get acquainted.

We hope there'll be a hydrant,
A friendly tree or two,
Some drying leaves to shuffle,
A field to wander through.
We'll glory in our freedom,
And need no leash of leather;
It really will be Heaven, Lord,
As long as we're together.

A Dog's Eye View

The people whom I take to walk
I love and yet deplore,
Such things of real importance
They persistently ignore.
The sights and smells that thrill me
They stolidly pass by,
Then stop and stare in rapture
At nothing in the sky.

They waste such time in stopping
to look at things like flowers.
They pick the dullest places
To settle down for hours.
Sometimes I really wonder
If they can hear and smell;
Such vital things escape them--
And yet they mean so well!
