

TRI CITY BRIDGE

What's New?

Azalea Festival

Esperanza Jensen drove her beautiful yellow convertible in the Azalea Festival Parade carrying two other Tri City Bridge club member passengers as well as her husband, Allen.

Carol

Picture a young girl riding her horse in Golden Gate Park during a time years ago when that could actually happen. It sounds magical; and indeed, that is exactly how Carol describes her childhood. She grew up in the city with one sister. She graduated High School, attended one year at city and married her childhood sweetheart. Unfortunately that is where the magic ended, at least temporarily.

She corrected course with her second marriage to Cal, a relationship that lasted 45 years. They met and married in the Bay Area but Cal wanted to escape the hustle bustle of city life and take up farming, which they did quite successfully for many years in a place in California called Montgomery Creek.

You see, Cal had a gift for growing things and he was also ahead of his time (this was during the 70's) with the idea of selling a special product online. No it was not an illegal substance. It was elephant garlic. They also ran two commercial greenhouses from which they sold trees and plants for landscaping.

While Cal was busy growing plants, Carol was quite actively growing children. She worked for the Shasta County School District for 22 years during which time she raised four children of her own, fostered seven and hosted six exchange students. She also managed to lead and participate in numerous activities for youth, particularly within 4H.

She maintained her early love of horses and riding and was able to board her own at their new home in the country. She also raised Old English Sheep dogs.

Carol retired to Brookings with Cal in 2001. They were able to enjoy numerous cruises together, the highlight for Carol being the one through the Amazon. They quietly continued their golden years until his passing in 2009.

Carol is now blessed with two grandchildren and two great grandchildren with her son in Olympia, Washington and her two daughters in Salt Lake City. She took up bridge three short years ago and likes that it keeps her brain active. She also continues to grow things - gardening in containers on her deck and boarding the occasional pet.
