
#1 VALENTINE'S DAY

TO MY RONDA :

My life with you has been nothing
But happiness and bliss...
That's why you have that brand new ring
And no more your title "miss".

That's not to say our days before
Were not filled with sorrow
Which tested our love right to the core.
Still, we'll be one yet tomorrow.

For sixteen years you've been my girl
I have not seen one better.
You represent my shining pearl
And the Lord told me to net her!

For the first time that I saw you
He talked to me this way...
I heard Him say it right on cue...
"You'll marry her some day!"

Though little did I know it
That before this day would come,
Would be a day that we would split
And make us both go numb!

I thank God His unending wisdom's better
And He had seen it all unfurl.
He knew we would get back together
To love our baby girl.

For through it all it surely proves
That love will conquer all,
And overcome the devil's moves
Even when we fall.

Children of God; that's what we are
And we will never waver
To fulfill the reason He received His scars.
His love for us...we'll always savor!

I'll end this poem with this last thought;
I THANK THE LORD YOU'RE MINE!
For a Holy marriage is all I sought...
My God-sent Valentine!

Love:
