

#102 This World Hates Correction

This world, meaning our carnal mind, hates correction
And is constantly going in the wrong direction.
When someone is confronted that they've done something bad
They say basically...Who the hell are you? My dad?

Well, yes I am, as His representative if I'm speaking words w/ love & peace.
And you are too when you try to encourage disunity to cease.
The spirit that lives in this world is focused on death and hate.
This world will end someday soon - God promised that that IS it's fate.

Jesus told us this evil age will end as all others have.
And AGAPE LOVE is the only all-purpose salve
That can deal with the perversions of a Holy walk.
Those still blinded by God are the ones that balk.

To make it worse, I quite often seem to step out of line.
And even though what I say might actually be divine,
It's taken out of context and my intent seems to fail.
And to a cross my butt people often want to help nail.

But what's right is right and the only way for evil to stop
Is when the righteous Spirit is delivered...sometimes by a karate chop.
At least in the essence that an attitude must change.
God has put His children in place to complete the exchange

And will bring down the heavy hand of the Law that will lead
To a quick attitude adjustment that makes a HUMBLED heart bleed
With Godly sorrow that leads to repentance...
Sometimes during and sometimes after the sentence.

But the heart and attitude that God has yet to soften
Will have to learn the same lesson way too often...
In OUR eyes. But in God's...it's perfectly timed and right.
When that time happens, they're READY to listen and no longer fight.

Then a blessed time of quick growth will happen all at once
And they will understand that their past life was lived as a dunce.
But was still loved and blessed by God in the wisest of ways
Because the rest of his life will become the best of his days!
