

#7 CONFIRMATION DAY

Danny K. this is your day
Bright and sunny, the first day of May
When you verbalized your confirmation
Into our Lord's blessed new creation

Of those who believe in Jesus Christ
And His promise by personal sacrifice.
He died on the cross for me and you
And said He'd be there to see us through

The many tests He must put on us
Before we can get on heaven's bus.
For we're to prove our love for Him
And keep His light from going dim

'Cause we all know who we're to fight
Who causes things to not go right.
When life gets rough and things look grim
And show to all He lives within

To spread His love in things we do.
His holy words our eternal glue
That will keep us stuck to His side
And in His love we will abide

To help our neighbor if he should fall
And answer any and all who call
For help or trust or companionship
And pick him up if he has tripped

With humble meekness and above all love
Which is not from us but from Him up above.
You are young and I'm sure you know
That in His ways you are to grow

And show Him that He is the one
You lived for till this life was done
While knowing that you'll be by His side
When He comes back to marry His bride!
