

JAN
12

The Lost Fish of the Delaware & Schuylkill Rivers and Their Culinary Legacy

by Historic Foodways Society of the Delaware Valley

Follow

$54 - $65

Sun, January 12, 2020, 11:30 AM – 2:30 PM EST
Black Bass Hotel, 3774 River Road, Lumberville, PA 18933

An industry of catching and processing the prehistoric-looking sturgeon once thrived along the shores of the Delaware River and road houses along the Schuylkill River served Philadelphia's famous catfish and waffles. Learn more about how these fish transformed the taste of the region and what happened to these once abundant fish from Teagan Schweitzer who researches food in Philadelphia during the 19th century.

Then enjoy a delicious period lunch prepared by the Black Bass' Executive Chef John Barrett. Choose an entree of either period Catfish and Waffles or Roasted Venison. A vegetarian option of Mushroom Ravioli can also be selected.

Black Bass Hotel

Historic Foodways Society of the Delaware Valley

January 12th, 2020

1st Course:

Smoked Sturgeon Salad
With leeks, haricot vert and frisée

2nd Course:

Seasonal Soup
With fresh seasonal ingredients from Chef's repertoire

3rd Course:

Catfish & Waffles
Old Bay gravy with mushroom and caper and pepper hash

OR

Roast Venison
With Cumberland sauce and wild rice pilaf

OR

Wild Mushroom Ravioli
In a roasted garlic cream sauce

4th Course:

Seasonal Miniature Dessert Assortment

Coffee & Tea Service

