PROGRAM

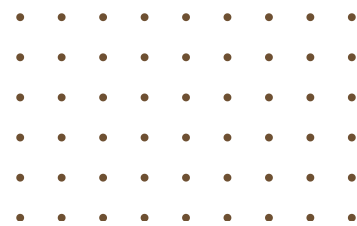

Partner with Industrial Womens Society and support the advancement of women in industrial real estate while gaining year-round visibility with one of Atlanta's fastest-growing industry networks. IWS reaches more than 100 professionals across industrial real estate, including brokers, developers, owners, investors, attorneys, architects, engineers, contractors, and industry service providers.

A wide-angle, high-angle photograph of a busy industrial port. The foreground and middle ground are filled with rows upon rows of stacked shipping containers in various shades of grey and blue. Several large gantry cranes are visible, extending over the container stacks. In the background, a body of water is visible, with more port infrastructure and distant land under a bright, slightly hazy sky. A dark brown, rounded rectangular banner is overlaid on the lower left portion of the image, containing the text 'ABOUT US' in white.

ABOUT US

Our mission is to empower women in industrial careers by providing a supportive network and comprehensive career development opportunities within a positive and inclusive community. We are dedicated to cultivating an environment where women thrive, fostering professional growth, leadership skills, and industry expertise. Through collaboration, mentorship, and advocacy, we aim to break barriers, celebrate achievements, and inspire future generations of women in the industrial sector.

TOGETHER, WE THRIVE

At IWS, we believe in building a strong community of women in industrial real estate through connection, collaboration, and support. Joining the Industrial Women's Society provides opportunities to connect with peers, share experiences, celebrate successes, and grow alongside a network of industry professionals.

While our Happy Hours are open to the broader community, membership unlocks exclusive access to our member directory, private IWS events, and additional opportunities for professional development, leadership, and networking throughout the year.

We also welcome companies that share our vision to become IWS sponsors. Corporate sponsorship helps us expand programming, host impactful events, and provide meaningful opportunities for women across the industry. In return, sponsors receive year-round visibility while demonstrating their commitment to advancing women in industrial real estate.

Together, through membership and sponsorship, we are building a stronger, more connected community that fosters lasting relationships, celebrates achievement, and creates opportunities for women to lead and succeed at every stage of their careers.
