The History of Acupuncture

The ancient practice of acupuncture started in China approximately 3000 years ago.⁸ The first documentation of acupuncture that described it as an organized system of diagnosis and treatment is in The Yellow Emperor's Classic of Internal Medicine, which dates back to 100 BCE.

By this time, the Qi (vital energy or life force) flow channels were well established, and the information likely stemmed from a compilation of traditions passed down over centuries.⁹ Gradually, the practice of acupuncture was honed and insertion points became more specified, until it became a standard practice in China alongside massage, diet, and herbs.

The History of Acupuncture

Electroacupuncture was established in China around 1934 as an extension of acupuncture. By the late 1940's Electro-acupuncture was further developed by a German doctor, Dr Voll who had an interest in Traditional Chinese Medicine (TCM) and the associated acupuncture points used in TCM to promote health and well-being.

Dr Voll's Research

Dr Voll researched the physiological effects and the associated correlations between acupuncture points and internal organs and the human body systems.

His research findings found, by stimulating an acupuncture point using a pulsating current resulted in a reaction of a human organism. Through research he was able to construct a schematic model by recording galvanic skin measurements at various acupuncture points on the human body to create an accurate non-invasive diagnosis of a patient's general health and well-being according to this system.

Acupuncture enhances generation of nitric oxide and increases local circulation.

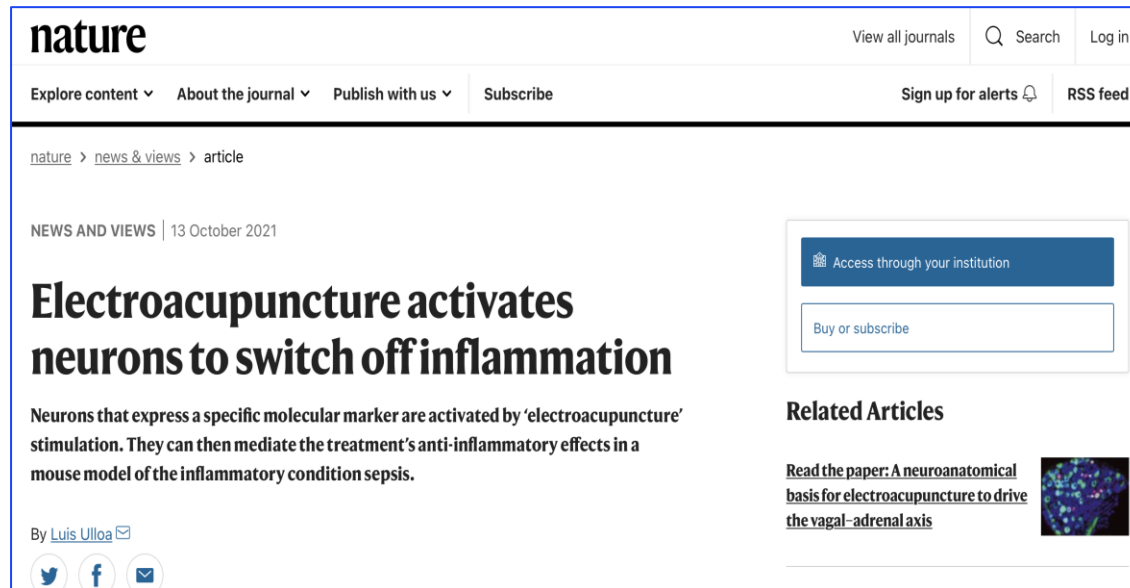

Source: National Library of Medicine

The screenshot shows the PubMed interface for a specific article. At the top, there's a header for the National Library of Medicine with a search bar and a 'Log in' button. Below this, the PubMed logo is visible. The article title is 'Acupuncture enhances generation of nitric oxide and increases local circulation'. The authors listed are Masahiko Tsuchiya, Eisuke F Sato, Masayasu Inoue, and Akira Asada. The article is identified as a 'Randomized Controlled Trial' published in 'Anesth Analg' in 2007. The abstract begins with 'Although it is widely used, the mechanisms and effects of acupuncture on pain are not completely understood. Recently, increased nitric oxide (NO) synthase activity has been found in meridians and acupoints. Because NO is a key regulator of local circulation, and because change in circulation can affect the development and persistence of pain, we propose that acupuncture might regulate NO levels. We studied the effects of acupuncture on local NO levels and circulation in a randomized, double-blind, crossover study with 20 volunteers, each of whom underwent one session each of real and noninvasive sham acupuncture in a single hand and forearm with a 1-wk interval between treatments. NO concentration in the plasma from the acupunctured arm was...'. Neurons that express a specific molecular marker are activated by 'electroacupuncture' stimulation. They can then mediate the treatment's anti-inflammatory effects in a mouse model of the inflammatory condition sepsis.

Acupuncture and its ability to restore and maintain immune homeostasis

Source: National Library of Medicine

Fortunately, evidence suggests that acupuncture can bidirectionally regulate the immune system to maintain immune homeostasis. In cases of immunosuppressive diseases (e.g. cancer), acupuncture has an enhancing effect on immunity. Conversely, in autoimmune diseases (e.g. rheumatoid arthritis), acupuncture has been observed to have an immunosuppressive effect, which helps restore normal immune tolerance.

The screenshot shows the PubMed interface for a review article. At the top, the NIH National Library of Medicine logo is visible. The PubMed logo is prominently displayed. A search bar is located at the top right. Below the search bar, there are buttons for 'Save', 'Email', 'Send to', and 'Display options'. The article title 'Acupuncture and its ability to restore and maintain immune homeostasis' is centered. Below the title, the authors are listed: F Liu, Y Wang, K Lyu, X Du, M Zhou, J Shi, R Na, Y Guo, G Wang, W Xu, and T Zheng. The article is identified as a 'Review' from QJM, 2024 Mar 27;117(3):167-176. The abstract text is visible, discussing immune homeostasis and the effects of acupuncture. On the right side, there are links for 'Cite' and 'Collections', and a 'SHARE' section with social media icons. Aculife Electric Potential Therapy Device (D-178)

THERAPEUTIC HEALTHCARE

Readjustment of the body's irregularity of positive ions

Excellent body ergonomics and contour is designed for the convenience of resting one's feet on the machine, can be used by two individuals simultaneously.

Introducing Aculife Electric Potential Therapy Device (D-178)

Readjustment of the body's irregularity of positive ions

The electric potential therapy device turns high single voltage charge into (negative) electric potential and when sent through the body, it allows for the readjustment of the body's irregularity of positive ions. By introducing high voltage (not current) and recreating nature's electric field, the machine works to convert acidic blood into a weak alkaline state and alleviate symptoms of headache, shoulder pain and constipation.

The Root Cause of Cancer

"Cancerous tissues are acidic, whereas healthy tissues are alkaline. Water splits into H^+ and OH^- ions, if there is an access of H^+ , it is acidic; if there is an access of OH^- ions, then it is alkaline."

Dr Otto Warburg

Nobel Prize Winner: On the Cause of Cancer

In his work, "The Metabolism of Tumours" he demonstrated that all forms of cancer are characterized by two basic conditions: acidosis and hypoxia (lack of oxygen).

Lack of oxygen and acidosis are two sides of the same coin: where you have one, you have the other.

"All normal cells have an absolute requirement for oxygen, but cancer cells can live without oxygen – a rule without exception. Deprive a cell 35% of its oxygen for 48 hours and it may become cancerous."

Dr. Otto Heinrich Warburg
Nobel Prize Winner
The Root Cause of Cancer

Biochemist Otto Heinrich Warburg, one of the twentieth century's leading cell biologists, discovered that the root cause of cancer is too much acidity in the body, meaning that the pH, potential hydrogen, in the body is below the normal level of 7.365, which constitutes an "acidic" state. Warburg investigated the metabolism of tumors and the respiration of cells and discovered that cancer cells maintain and live in a lower pH, as low as 6.0, due to lactic acid production and elevated CO_2 . Warburg firmly believed that there was a direct relationship between pH and oxygen. Higher pH, which is Alkaline, means higher concentration of oxygen molecules, while lower pH, which is acidic, means lower concentrations of oxygen...the same oxygen that is needed to maintain healthy cells.

In 1931 he was awarded the Nobel Prize in Medicine for this important discovery. Dr. Warburg was director of the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute (now Max Planck Institute) for Physiology at Berlin. He investigated the metabolism of tumors and the respiration of cells, particularly cancer cells. Below are some direct quotes by Dr. Warburg during medical lectures where he was the keynote speaker:

"Cancerous tissues are acidic, whereas healthy tissues are alkaline. Water splits into H^+ and OH^- ions, if there is an excess of H^+ , it is acidic; if there is an excess of OH^- ions, then it is alkaline."

In his work The Metabolism of Tumours Warburg demonstrated that all forms of cancer are characterized by two basic conditions: acidosis and hypoxia (lack of oxygen). "Lack of oxygen and acidosis are two sides of the same coin: where you have one, you have the other."

"All normal cells have an absolute requirement for oxygen, but cancer cells can live without oxygen - a rule without exception."

"Deprive a cell 35% of its oxygen for 48 hours and it may become cancerous."

Dr. Warburg has made it clear that the root cause of cancer is oxygen deficiency, which creates an acidic state in the human body. Dr. Warburg also discovered that cancer cells are anaerobic (do not breathe oxygen) and cannot survive in the presence of high levels of oxygen, as found in an alkaline state.

KUALA LUMPUR: "I was surprised when I found out I had breast cancer," said Hasanah Mohd Yusoff.

According to what was told, he himself detected the presence of the cancer. At first, she saw a health show on television, a segment on how to detect breast cancer. After watching the show, she continued to practice the method shown and she unexpectedly found a lump on her left breast.

"Sister was surprised because she can feel a bump on her breast. The doctor confirmed that she had a lump in her breast. Even more frightening, the doctor said it was getting bigger and almost the size of a 50-cent coin."

KUALA LUMPUR: TERSEYUM oleh apa yang dia rasakan, 45, setelah doktor mengesahkan yang dia telah bergegas dari masalah kanser yang selama ini menghantui hatinya.

Hanya dengan menggunakan alat Anion Aculife dan Acupointer sahaja, dia mampu menarik nafas lega setelah hampir setahun menderita kanser payudara hingga dua minggu di P.C. Manjeri, doktor mula mengesan penyakitnya pada bulan Oktober tahun lalu.

Apa yang amat mengejutkan, halunya adalah kanser yang didiagnosis itu adalah pada peringkat empat dan hanya mampu memulakan rawatannya jika terawat.

Punca penyakitnya adalah berkaitan dengan pembedahan dan doktor mengatakan bahawa kanser payudara yang dia rasakan itu adalah kanser payudara yang sudah mencapai peringkat empat dan hanya mampu memulakan rawatannya jika terawat.

Pada bulan Mac lalu, doktor mengatakan kanser payudara yang dia rasakan itu adalah kanser payudara yang sudah mencapai peringkat empat dan hanya mampu memulakan rawatannya jika terawat.

"Sister was surprised because she can feel a bump on her breast. The doctor confirmed that she had a lump in her breast. Even more frightening, the doctor said it was getting bigger and almost the size of a 50-cent coin."

"scope" ke dalam hidung saya dan melalui kamera scope, doktor sahkan saya telah ditubuhkan kanser terubuh. Saya mahu mengesahkan doktor kepada Allah S.W.T kerana diberi kesihatan dan kehidupan seperti biasa semula.

"Tapi doktor cakap saya kena silap bual pemeriksaan kanser terubuh di luar terubuh kerana dalam tempoh lima tahun jika dalam tempoh itu saya tidak dapat mahu, saya bebas dari kanser ini. Doktor juga hantar dan bermula untuk sembuh. Saya cakap saya hanya guna rawatan acupointer dan alat elektrik anion sahaja. Doktor terkejut dan memberikan saya pemeriksaan rawatan ini. Saya sangat gembira dan bersyukur kepada ACULIFE kerana panjang."

"Bila doktor periksa keadaan saya, saya suruh doktor buat CT scan dan doktor terkejut. Tumor saya telah hilang. Jadi dia suruh saya pulang ke rumah. Tapi belum sempat saya keluar dari pintu bilik, saya disampangi dengan umah. Rawatan pemeriksaan sekali lagi."

"Doktor memulakan rawatan kanser terubuh dengan pembedahan dan doktor mengatakan bahawa kanser payudara yang dia rasakan itu adalah kanser payudara yang sudah mencapai peringkat empat dan hanya mampu memulakan rawatannya jika terawat."

"Saya nak minum air pun susah masa tu." - Erwan.

En. Yafya amat berterima kasih kepada En. Ridhwan Hoe.

KUALA LUMPUR: Yafya Aza Hamid, 45, was left with a smile after the doctor confirmed that he was free from the cancer problem that had plagued his mind for years.

Only by using Anion Aculife and Acupointer, he was able to draw a sigh of relief after almost a year of suffering from cancer of the base of the nose or cancer N.P.C.

According to him, doctors first detected his illness in October last year.

What worries him the most is that the cancer he has is in stage four and it is capable of harming him if it is not treated.

"I was so sick at that time that the doctor told me to pray and surrender to Allah SWT. As a side effect of the chemotherapy treatment, I lost a severe ulcer and my eyes popped out."

"Seeing my condition like that, my friend recommended me with Aculife anion electric shaver. I started getting to know Mr. Ridhwan Hoe who also had the same problem as me once before. After hearing his experience using this tool, I was happy and intended to try it."

"The first time, I tried. I could see the results. And I continued to try for two weeks. Continuously. But I did not know my check-up with the doctor. I followed my appointment schedule with doctor."

"When the doctor checked my condition, I told the doctor to do a CT scan and the doctor was surprised to see that my tumor had disappeared. So he told me to go home. But before I could get out of the door of his room, I was called to do another examination. The doctor insisted."

Yafya, 45

"I want to drink water. It's hard to watch TV. Yafya."
